Time Management James Goldman, 2014-07-08

Time is a currency we would all like to maximize. There are only 24 hours in a day. Eight hours or less go to sleeping, recharging for the onslaught of tasks that you must face in the morning. Another eight hours go to work especially if you work regular shifts in an office. That leaves eight hours for you to eat three healthy meals, bathe, brush your teeth, travel back and forth from your house to the office, progress with paperwork or bills, read a book or spend time with your family. With so much to do every single day, a lot of us often find ourselves wishing for an extra hour or two. Why can't each day have 26 hours instead? A lot of us could use those crucial two hours to catch up on sleep or friends and family especially after such a long, tiring day at work.
