The WhatsApp India Story Sunetra Sen Narayan, Shalini Narayanan, 2024-02-13 WhatsApp is used by over half a billion people in India today in all fields in business corporate and informal sectors in government for education and among friends families and acquaintances This book critically explores the social messaging app's rapid expansion in India and its growing influence and looks at whether as a form of horizontal communication it poses a challenge to more traditional structures of communication The book examines WhatsApp's spread in the personal and professional lives of Indians and the myriad ways in which people in India are using the app in social and business interactions including among people living with disabilities Using case studies interviews surveys and in depth research it analyses key aspects of WhatsApp's massive popularity and its impact on how people communicate It also explores its impact on the psycho social dynamics in India including the dissemination of fake news and politically motivated content and the consequent need for media regulation in the country One of the first books to analyse the pervasiveness of WhatsApp and social media apps in different areas of Indian society this book will be of interest to scholars and students of media studies communication studies digital media cultural studies cyberculture studies sociology and social policy and media law The Palgrave Handbook of Humour Research Elisabeth Vanderheiden, Claude-Hélène Mayer, 2024-05-31 This handbook is the updated and expanded second edition of a highly cited and impactful collection which provides new perspectives on humour from transdisciplinary perspectives The collection's focus is on humour as a resource from different socio cultural and psychological viewpoints bringing together authors from different cultures social contexts and countries The handbook enables researchers and practitioners to unlock research findings which give new directions for contemporary and future humour research By employing transdisciplinary and transcultural perspectives the volume further discusses humour in regard to different cultural and political contexts humour over the lifespan in therapy and counselling in pedagogical settings in medicine and the workspace The contributions also highlight the connections between humour and the COVID 19 pandemic and promise new inspiring insights This second edition includes a new introduction from the editors updates to the majority of the chapters and five new chapters which take a humour research approach to contemporary issues such as the Russian Ukrainian crisis the consequences of the pandemic and tackles developments related to artificial intelligence and gamification With an expanded scope this handbook will continue to appeal to researchers practitioners and students in the fields of industrial and organisational psychology positive psychology organisational studies future studies health and occupational science and therapy who will find each chapter highly topical insightful and applicable to practice Social Media in Northern Chile Nell Haynes, 2016-06-06 Based on 15 months of ethnographic research in the city of Alto Hospicio in northern Chile this book describes how the residents use social media and the consequences of this use in their daily lives Nell Haynes argues that social media is a place where Alto Hospicio's residents or Hospiceos express their feelings of marginalisation that result from living in city far from the national capital and with a notoriously low quality of life compared to other urban areas in Chile. In actively distancing themselves from residents in cities such as Santiago, Hospice os identify as marginalised citizens and express a new kind of social norm. Yet Haynes finds that by contrasting their own lived experiences with those of people in metropolitan areas, Hospice os are strengthening their own sense of community and the sense of normativity that shapes their daily lives. This exciting conclusion is illustrated by the range of social media posts about personal relationships, politics and national citizenship, particularly on Facebook.

Culture, Communication and India's Development N. Sudhakar Rao, Arbind Sinha, 2022-01-01 Grounded in the realities of Indian social context, the book is concerned with both theory and practice concerning Development Communication. It brings together Social Cultural Anthropology and Development Communication in India, covering tribal, rural, and urban populations on the subject. The chapters in the volume focus on the contemporary media practices, issues of empowerment of women, and marginal populations through communication technologies, which are proven very effective. Further, the new areas of research, such as clash of cultures and phatic communication, Social Media, and impact of social networks on mental health, sharenting, etc., identified would provide leads to the researchers in the area of Development Communication. The book will serve as a guide for Communication.

Anthropology which is in infant stage in India It will be a boon to sociology and communication researchers in India and other Third World countries to understand the subtleties of current social transformation Being Human during COVID Kristin Ann Hass,2021-11-29 Science has taken center stage during the COVID 19 crisis scientists named and diagnosed the virus traced its spread and worked together to create a vaccine in record time But while science made the headlines the arts and humanities were critical in people s daily lives As the world went into lockdown literature music and media became crucial means of connection and historians reminded us of the resonance of the past as many of us heard for the first time about the 1918 influenza pandemic As the twindemics of COVID 19 and racial injustice tore through the United States a contested presidential race unfolded which one candidate described as a battle for the soul of the nation Being Human during COVID documents the first year of the pandemic in real time bringing together humanities scholars from the University of Michigan to address what it feels like to be human during the COVID 19 crisis Over the course of the pandemic the questions that occupy the humanities about grieving and public the social contract and individual rights racial formation and xenophobia ideas of home and conceptions of gender narrative and representations and power have become shared life or death questions about how human societies work and how culture determines our collective fate The contributors in this collection draw on scholarly expertise and lived experience to try to make sense of the unfamiliar present in works that range from traditional scholarly essays to personal essays to visual art projects The resulting book is shot through with fear dread frustration and prejudice and on a few occasions with a thrilling sense of hope Wayang & Its Doubles Jan Mrázek,2019 Much has been said about how Javanese puppet theatre Wayang Kulit richly reflects the Javanese world and how changes and tensions in performance practice mirror those in culture and society 0For decades television has been as intensely part of the Javanese world as Wayang This book explores the ways two complex media and modes of being seeing and fantasising with their different cultures coexist and meet and haunt or invade each other It is what what a Javanese commentator calls a difficult marriage intimate on the one hand deeply alienating on the other institutionalised yet at the same time mercurial and shifting 0This encounter is explored on many levels including performance aesthetics the technicalities of television production issues of time space light place and movement audience experience of live and televised performances and the collaboration and struggle between performers and television producers Central to the book are personal perspectives and experiences as well as Javanese discussions surrounding the interaction between Wayang and television and their cultures 0They are brought into a conversation with reflections on media and technology by writers such as Karl Marx Martin Heidegger Maurice Merleau Ponty Jacques Derrida Paul Virilio and James Siegel Wayang s relationship with television is considered in the context of the theatre s intercourse with older and newer media including electricity radio audio and video recording the internet and social media Teaching and Learning of English in the 21st Century Muhammad Kamarul Kabilan,2021 101 Best Whatsapp Messages Sadhan Samanta,2015-02-02 101 Best Whatsapp Messages is a collection of
