

A large, ornate gold tassel is positioned on the left side of the cover. It features a thick, braided gold cord that loops and curves around the top and left. The tassel itself is composed of many fine, gold-colored threads that hang down in a dense, fringed manner. The background is a deep blue fabric with a subtle texture and a diagonal crease running from the bottom left towards the center.

Choice & Voice Stephanie Fleck, Jolene Heinemann, 2020-08-15 What we allow our students to read tells them which stories we value and which we don't. Give students the power to develop reading lives that will endure beyond school walls. Collaborative Reader Workshop allows for student choice in reading writing and speaking provides an authentic audience for student work strengthens academic ELA skills builds a wider school community of readers and fosters lifelong reading habits. Fleck and Heinemann offer teachers a clear model to establish this interactive reader workshop model in their classrooms as well as tools to get them started. Readers will have a reinvigorated excitement about independent reading and justification for its relevance in the classroom. Social Justice, The Common Core, and Closing the Instructional Gap Janet C.

Richards, Kristien Zenkov, 2015-10-21 This book critiques the Common Core State Standards CCSS and their development implementation and evaluation. It offers a social justice perspective on CCSS with practical examples of curricula that empower diverse learners. Chapters include first person accounts of integrating social justice with CCSS. Teaching Multicultural Children's Literature in a Diverse Society AnnMarie Alberton Gunn, Susan, V. Bennett, 2023-03-28 This textbook is a comprehensive resource for teaching multicultural children's literature. Providing foundational information on how and why to integrate diverse children's literature into the classroom, this book presents a necessary historical perspective on cultural groups in the United States and context for how to teach children's literature in a way that reflects and sustains students' rich cultural backgrounds. The historical insights and context on diverse cultural groups at the heart of the book allow readers to deepen their understanding of why teaching about cultural diversity is necessary for effective and inclusive education. Part I offers foundational information on how to teach children's literature in a diverse society and Part II overviews pedagogy resources and guidance for teaching specific culturally and linguistically marginalized groups. Each chapter contains book recommendations, discussion questions, and additional resources for teachers. With authentic strategies and crucial background knowledge embedded in each chapter, this text is essential reading for pre-service and in-service teachers and is ideal for courses in children's literature, literacy methods instruction, and multicultural education.

Exercises in Architecture Simon Unwin, 2022-08-01 This revised edition of Exercises in Architecture: Learning to Think as an Architect is full of new content building on the success of the previous edition. All the original exercises have been revised and new ones added with the format changing to allow the inclusion of more supplementary material. The aim remains the same: to help pre- or early-course architecture students begin and develop their ability to think as architects. Learning to do architecture is tricky. It involves awakening abilities that remain dormant in most people. It is like learning language for the first time: a task made more mystifying by the fact that architecture deals not in words but in places. Places to stand to walk to sit to hide to sleep to cook to eat to work to play to worship. This book was written for those who want to be architects. It suggests a basis for early experiences in a school of architecture but it could also be used in secondary schools and colleges or as self directed preparation for students in the months before entering professional education Exercises in Architecture builds on and supplements the methodology for architectural analysis presented in the author s previous book Analysing Architecture the Universal Language of Place Making fifth edition 2021 and demonstrated in his Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Routledge 2015 Together the three books deal with the three aspects of learning any creative discipline 1 Analysing Architecture provides a methodology for analysis that develops an understanding of the way architecture works 2 Twenty Five Buildings explores and extends that methodology through analysis of examples as case studies and 3 Exercises in Architecture offers a way of expanding understanding and developing fluency by following a range of rudimentary and more sophisticated exercises Those who wish to become professional architects wherever in the world they might be must make a conscious effort to learn the universal language of architecture as place making to explore its powers and how they might be used The exercises in this book are designed to help
