Around the World in Eighty Days Jules Verne, 2013-12 Mr Phileas Fogg lived in 1872 at No 7 Saville Row Burlington Gardens the house in which Sheridan died in 1814 He was one of the most noticeable members of the Reform Club though he seemed always to avoid attracting attention an enigmatical personage about whom little was known except that he was a polished man of the world People said that he resembled Byron at least that his head was Byronic but he was a bearded tranquil Byron who might live on a thousand years without growing old Certainly an Englishman it was more doubtful whether Phileas Fogg was a Londoner He was never seen on Change nor at the Bank nor in the counting rooms of the City no ships ever came into London docks of which he was the owner he had no public employment he had never been entered at any of the Inns of Court either at the Temple or Lincoln's Inn or Gray's Inn nor had his voice ever resounded in the Court of Chancery or in the Exchequer or the Queen's Bench or the Ecclesiastical Courts He certainly was not a manufacturer nor was he a merchant or a gentleman farmer His name was strange to the scientific and learned societies and he never was known to take part in the sage deliberations of the Royal Institution or the London Institution the Artisan's Association or the Institution of Arts and Sciences He belonged in fact to none of the numerous societies which swarm in the English capital from the Harmonic to that of the Entomologists founded mainly for the purpose of abolishing pernicious insects Phileas Fogg was a member of the Reform and that was all The way in which he got admission to this exclusive club was simple enough He was recommended by the Barings with whom he had an open credit His cheques were regularly paid at sight from his account current which was always flush Was Phileas Fogg rich Undoubtedly But those who knew him best could not imagine how he had made his fortune and Mr Fogg was the last person to whom to apply for the information He was not lavish nor on the contrary avaricious for whenever he knew that money was needed for a noble useful or benevolent purpose he supplied it quietly and sometimes anonymously He was in short the least communicative of men He talked very little and seemed all the more mysterious for his taciturn manner His daily habits were quite open to observation but whatever he did was so exactly the same thing that he had always done before that the wits of the curious were fairly puzzled Had he travelled It was likely for no one seemed to know the world more familiarly there was no spot so secluded that he did not appear to have an intimate acquaintance with it He often corrected with a few clear words the thousand conjectures

advanced by members of the club as to lost and unheard of travellers pointing out the true probabilities and seeming as if gifted with a sort of second sight so often did events justify his predictions He must have travelled everywhere at least in the spirit
