Literary Contexts in Short Stories, 2006 A Study Guide for Raymond Carver's "What We Talk About When We Talk About Love" Gale, Cengage Learning, Beginners Raymond Carver, 2015-09-15 From one of the great short story writers of our time of any time The Philadelphia Inquirer comes the original manuscript of the seminal 1981 collection What We Talk About When We Talk About Love Raymond Carver is one of the most celebrated short story writers in American literature his style is both instantly recognizable and hugely influential and the pieces in What We Talk About which portray the gritty loves and lives of the American working class are counted among the foundation stones of the contemporary short story In this unedited text we gain insight into the process of a great writer These expansive stories illuminate the many dimensions of Carver's style and are indispensable to our understanding of his legacy Text established by William L Stull and Maureen P Carroll When We Talk About Raymond Carver: Experiencing Two Versions of What We Talk About When We Talk About Love Shelby R. Sleevi, 2012 This thesis analyzes the manuscript version of Raymond Carver's What We Talk About When We Talk About Love 1981 in order to determine how the effects of the stories therein on meaning and on the interpretive aesthetic and ethical judgments that help to shape that meaning differ from the effects of the stories in the collection as it was first published My Introduction provides the necessary historical and literary context for the project including background on the situation through which this manuscript was made available The second half of the Introduction discusses the theoretical underpinnings for my approach to the texts which include the work of narrative theorists Wayne Booth Seymour Chatman James Phelan and Peter Rabinowitz Chapter One compares The Bath and A Small Good Thing two versions of the same narrative that display notable differences in form as well as content Chapter Two focuses on the treatment and representation of the women in each version of the collection looking especially at differences in character development Chapter Three addresses the different effects of these texts portrayal of lower middle class experience due to modifications in character narration Finally in a brief Conclusion I return to the contextual issues raised the Introduction to present the implications of these textual comparisons for Carver studies as well as for several concepts from narrative theory
