Soul Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond:

The Soul James M. Essig, 2015-01-31 At some fundamental level of reality the number of possible relation based features and by corollary also the number of actual features of a given human soul can grow and will grow for all eternity This affirmation implies an eternal growth beyond imaging of each human soul and by corollary the size of the spiritual cosmos In some sense each new characteristic is as if a creation all to its own although not an entire personal creation None the less we can have hope that the size of the spiritual cosmos will at the very least eternally grow in unfathomable manners commensurate with the relation based features growth of each human soul and by corollary also each and every extraterrestrial person soul and each and every ultra terrestrial person soul This book includes a set theory type expounding on the indefinite possibilities for each soul to forever experience existential growth into the boundless and fathomless depths of future eternity

The Soul James Essig, 2017-03-31 I thought that you as reader would enjoy this writing on the great dignity of the human soul This book offers a sharp contrast to the main topics on which I tend to post and was written and compiled from my heart I have often posted articles on extremely manned starship technologies and as a physicist I will continue to do such However I offer this rather long article as a sharing of my personal belief in the transcendent dignity of every human person and by corollary that of any of our ETI brothers and sisters With modern technological capabilities to monitor the various emotional and mental states of test subjects and the ability to measure and experimentally probe the electric and magnetic fields generated within the human body we sometimes are tempted to view the human soul as some form of corruptible energy field We long for a rekindling of a sense of mystery regarding the ephemeral reality of the human soul This book is motivated as an attempt to restore a sense of mystery in the minds and hearts of any and all persons who will read this post regarding that aspect of our human nature that seems to be beyond validation by modern science technology and medicine and which seems to defy certain and precise explanation by philosophers theologians and clergyman alike

The Soul James Essig, 2015-03-17 The beginnings of my theoretical metaphysics work of the human soul had its origin dating back when I was a 4 year old child who had asked my mother as to where my soul is located inside me If my memory serves me correctly she said it is everywhere inside me When I asked her what my soul was she said it is a form Since I was playing with a toy template which included a black vinylized cardboard sheet with the outlines of folks dressed in various shapes of clothing for which one would match the template with adhesively removable stickers in the shape of the clothing I began to have some idea what the word form meant It just so happened that the toy template and stickers was meant for pre school aged children and was trademarked as Colorforms Somehow even back then the idea of a form as a perfection or idea thus occurred to me perhaps in no small part than that the adhesively removable stickers looked perfect with no blemishes or other visible dirt on them In this volume we cover the notion of the explosive power of creation of the human soul as a time dependent process for the realization of the latent potentiality and latent possibilities of each human soul and its potential growth for all eternity Thus we will take the usual time derivatives by using the preface notation d which for the function of derivation The possibilities of continuous or supercontinuous time in GOD s reference frame allow for the possibility of literally instantaneous creation of each human soul in GOD s reference frame and in GOD s time The explosion of the creation of each human soul is a profoundly abstract but whimsical concept and thus alludes to the enormous event that each creation of a soul is In a way the power of these soul explosions further alludes to the great ontological energy that is each human soul and the ontological power for existence latent in each human soul and that is inherent in the very nature of each human soul Another interesting notion involves taking the first time derivative of the power production of the soul Herein we also compute for scenarios of second derivatives of power production associated with the soul which are also the third time derivatives of the energy production associated with the creation of the soul We further explore the epistemology and lexicography of the first derivatives of the first and second time derivatives of the powers of soul creation but this time with respect to the holistic extents of the soul aspects or portions thereof already in existence as the soul comes into full existence We refer the latter derivative as the existential portion completion derivatives The Soul James M. Essig,2016-01-25 Note that in this volume and more generally in this series of books I make no claim to the de Facto correctness of the contents expressed herein I provide the disclaimer that although I am Catholic the material presented herein should not be interpreted in any manner as Catholic Dogmatic Teaching This volume and the additional volumes in this series are merely based on rationally informed speculation guided by honest attempts at good reasoning on my part i e the author s part Herein PART 43 I offer a possible way around the conundrum of the notion of a spiritual and immortal soul but yet the extreme causal coupling between even the most advanced cognitive and volitional behavior of human persons in this life I provide a perhaps more scientifically balanced consideration of the immortality of the human soul from the standpoint of being a Catholic physicist which seems to me much more sensible than the ancient Greek or Scholastic approaches of perhaps dated traditional Catholic theological approaches Now the Human Body has automatic functions that are largely avolitional and unconscious which maintain the bodies physiological state of living and functionality Such functions are heart pumping blood oxygenation digestion and even the ATP and Krebs energy cycles within the bodily cells Unconscious psychic processes and neutral substrates maintain the integrity of conscious functioning in cognitive emotional volitional and re collective activities Perhaps within the substance of the Human Soul and at the level of the Soul s vegetative life unconscious spiritually material processes maintain the order and structure of the faculties of the Human Soul and by corollary also that of the Souls of bodily extraterrestrial and bodily ultra terrestrial persons It may even be possible that this spiritual physiology permits continued existence of the human soul by some existential continuous creation principle that is inherent in the soul and which has no existential underpinning except for GOD s sustaining will which in such a case may be the generative causality of a one time act of will to initially create each soul that comes into existence Perhaps all GOD has to do say or will is related to the act of initial creation of the Soul and the effects of such an act which then propagate through time to enable the continued existence of the soul by the soul's self reinforcing causality. This would allow for the notion that GOD sustains the soul in existence by a one time creative act while at the same time enabling each Soul to be self existing in an avolitional and unconscious self maintenance manner. The above speculations are plausible to the extent that a symmetry exists between living physical systems and living spiritual systems. Since symmetries abound in physics and physiology a case can be made for the further investigation of the concepts presented above and below. We will affix the prefix Magnitude f Soul Self Maintenance Spiritual Physiology g Soul Substance Faculties Accidents h Unconscious Ultra unconscious Subconscious Conscious k ego ID superego to denote that magnitude of the self maintenance principle of each Soul in a formulaic context specific manner.

The Soul James M. Essig, 2016-08-31 The new concepts disclosed in this book as almost all of my new concepts occurred more or less in a state of relaxed undisciplined free association. In this volume I introduce a content related to the subject of a core of the soul. Accordingly each spiritual and immortal soul would have a existential core or existentially innermost aspect. The core of the soul would be akin to the essence of the substance of the soul. Another way to view any existential core of the soul would be to frame the concept in terms of the heart of the soul or the innermost recesses of the soul. I go further to formulate Set Theory based expressions for the number of possible intra soul relations of the core of the soul with the rest of the soul.

The Soul James Essig, 2015-03-15 In this volume we cover the notion of the explosive power of creation of the human soul as a time dependent process for the realization of the latent potentiality and latent possibilities of each human soul and its potential growth for all eternity. The possibilities of continuous or supercontinuous time in GOD's reference frame allow for the possibility of literally instantaneous creation of each human soul in GOD's reference frame and in GOD's time. The explosion of the creation of each human soul is a profoundly abstract but whimsical concept and thus alludes to the enormous even that each creation of a soul is. In a way the power of these soul explosions further alludes to the great ontological energy that is each human soul and the ontological power for existence latent in each human soul and that is inherent in the very nature of each human soul.

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. PART 21 James Essig, 2015-06-11 The beautiful front cover image is illustrative of how GOD's providential love shines on the Souls of the condemned and the just regardless of the extent of suffering in Hell. I am convinced that GOD's providential love shines on the condemned and the just souls even though the souls in Hell may never feel true comfort in this. Herein we consider the temporal relation between the souls of the deceased just and the souls of the condemned under the condition of complete or relative non existence of the souls of the condemned with respect to the souls of the just. For complete non existence as such we formulate a three dimensional cross product of the temporal axes for the time lines experienced by the condemned souls and the souls of the just. For simplicity of abstraction we will use a 3 D coordinate axis system two axes for the two time line continuums and one axis for the resulting cross product vector which is existentially normal with respect to the plane of the temporal axes The cross product of two vectors is defined only for vectors in three dimensional space By convention the vector n as a cross product $a \times b$ is given by the right hand rule where one points the forefinger of the right hand in the direction of a and the middle finger in the direction of b The vector n then points in the direction of the thumb or in the vector produced by the cross product operation Now to the extent that the two time line axes are anti parallel or essentially negated with respect to vector addition the magnitude of the cross product vector is zero Thus the souls of the condemned along a time line denoted as a will not have any temporal existence relative to the souls of the just who exist along a time line denoted by b In fact their existence will be negated with respect to those along time line b Here the cross product vector is the existential quantity associated with the relative reality of the two temporal axes To the extent that the two time line axes are not perpendicular but neither parallel nor anti parallel the magnitude of the cross product vector is positive Thus in this case the souls of the condemned have some existential relevance to the souls of the just and thus are not relatively annihilated with respect to the souls of the just For cases where both vectors are parallel the cross product is zero thus implying that the existential value of the condemned souls with respect to the souls of the just is zero perhaps indicating relative non existence in the normal mode of existence of the condemned souls relative to the just souls yet allowing for a differing type of relative existence of the souls of the condemned relative to the souls of the just Thus there might be two or more existential variables or dimensions or planes of existence

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. PART 20 James Essig,2015-06-01 The Human Soul is an odd reality The identity of each Soul is simple yet each soul has perhaps an unlimited number of features perhaps vastly infinitely so So each soul has an identity or a principle of identity despite having an enormously complex existential structure and as for as the faculties and accidental properties to say the least also an enormously complex ontological structure The unifying principle or one ness of each soul is paradoxical in light of the structural complexity of the Soul In order to manifest one ness of human personal sentient identity this one ness or self ness principle of each Human Soul has to be profoundly so so it seems in order to maintain cohesive personal sentient identity and to ensure that a given souls accidental properties and features and semi substantial or facultative properties and features belong to a given soul and not another soul Thus the one ness of each soul seems almost as if the personal identity of each soul is super unitary or more one than one My reasoning is that if the soul is one then the soul must be extremely one given the potential enormously complex nature of the accidental and facultative composition of the soul

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. PART 15. Second Edition James Essig,2015-05-01 This book as the Second Edition is almost identical to the first edition and includes change of font size for readability Herein novel formulas for describing the souls of Human Persons and any bodily extraterrestrial and ultra terrestrial persons are presented

The Soul James M. Essig,2015-09-13 We can all relate to the affirmation that occasionally we encounter a beautiful person Accordingly just as a young ardent romantic voluptuous and intelligent woman can be said to be beautiful we can likewise consider the current and potential beauty of ever human soul every bodily extraterrestrial species souls and every bodily ultraterrestrial species souls Such soul beauties are likely huge in number commensurate with the complexity of the structures of each soul even though each soul is a unity and presumably simple The number of beauties and or potential beauties of each soul is a function of the following operator f Beauty Enhancement g substantial structure h faculties of will intellect sensibility and memory k conscious subconscious unconscious ultra unconscious m ego superego ID n intellective life sensitive life vegetative life Thus the above operator itself a function is actually a compound function of the following sub function f Beauty Enhancement g substantial structure h faculties of will intellect sensibility and memory k conscious subconscious unconscious ultra unconscious m ego superego ID and n intellective life sensitive life vegetative life This makes sense because each of the modifying expressions associated with each sub function potentially represents aspects of the soul which in and of themselves also have a structure The Human Soul is an odd reality The identity of each Soul is simple yet each soul has perhaps an unlimited number of features perhaps vastly infinitely so So each soul has an identity or a principle of identity despite having an enormously complex existential structure and as for as the faculties and accidental properties to say the least also an enormously complex ontological structure The above operator is affixed to the basic expressions for the number of soul features or soul potential features as borrowed from previous books in this series The unifying principle or one ness of each soul is paradoxical in light of the structural complexity of the Soul To learn more I invite you to read this book The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. Part 5 James M. Essig,2014-07-05 This book is Part 5 of a serious attempt to advance the philosophy of the Human Soul I as author make no claim that the scope of the content represents Catholic Teaching and Dogmatic Truths even though I consider myself a conservative Catholic In this lengthy series many new ideas and concepts on the subject of the human soul are presented Heavy use of set theory and counting algorithms is made in an attempt to probe speculative infinite quantities and qualities of the human soul However many of the 251 chapters in this multi part series are devoid of any mathematical formulations so that those unfamiliar with advanced math can appreciate the subject chapters The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. Part 3 James M. Essig,2014-07-05 This book is a serious attempt to advance the philosophy of the Human Soul I as author make no claim that the scope of the content represents Catholic Teaching and Dogmatic Truths even though I consider myself a conservative Catholic In this lengthy series many new ideas and concepts on the subject of the human soul are presented Heavy use of set theory and counting algorithms is made in an attempt to probe speculative infinite quantities and qualities of the human soul However many of the 251 chapters in this series are devoid of any mathematical formulations so that those unfamiliar with advanced math can appreciate the subject chapters The Soul - Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond James M. Essig,2015-09-07 Perhaps Human Souls in their faculties or semi substantial compositions have an existential shape Now by shape what is conjectured herein is not geometric extensities or

forms Instead a more subtle philosophical mechanism is being explored here For example it is evident that even though the Human Soul is theologically theoretically simple or not composed of separate parts it is not without features The features of each Human Soul serve as a basis for properties that exist along a continuum of possible values which as a set are unique for each Human Soul Thus each Human Soul can be said to have a structure Now each Human Soul according to progressive theological interpretations is ontologically extremely good and is also of ontological eternal value to GOD This is so even for the cases of condemned souls Otherwise GOD would simply wipe the Human Souls in Hell out of existence I am convinced that even if the reality of Hell is interpreted in the most extreme and rigorous sense as eternal in duration the condemned souls serve a great purpose and are thus none the less loved by GOD commensurate with GOD s loving providence as shining on the just and unjust and also the inability of GOD to hate So it seems to me that the most profound reasons for the existence of Hell as the abode of the condemned is a great mystery Since each Human Soul is ontologically very very good such ontological goodness must support intrinsically or perhaps even non casually imply a great depth of beauty in the soul especially at the substantial level but also at the semi substantial or facultative level as well as at the level of accidental properties of each Soul Just as say a typical healthy ardent romantic young woman is often said to be beautiful because of her physical appearance and ardent health each and every soul in its structures can be said to be beautiful because GOD created each Human Person male or female very very good

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal

Sparkling Diamond. PART 22 James Essig,2015-07-22 Suppose that each human soul that ends up being condemned receives such punishment for eternity implying the traditionally stated eternity of the punishment of Hell Since such punishment is an eternal state the implication is that the conscious sentient identity or the who of the Soul per dues eternally even amidst the reality of the harsh punishments of an eternal Hell Such eternal punishments and the eternally existential conveyance of the Human Soul says something extreme in terms of the extent or degree of natural immortality and incorruptibility of each Human Soul most specifically the Souls in Hell The natural immortality of each human soul herein is interpreted as a substantial first created essence wise manifestation of the natural created substance of the soul or perhaps if not then the alteration of the substance of each soul by the merits of Christ Incarnation Life Passion Crucifixion Death Resurrection and Ascension as universally applicable to all human Souls condemned or saved or consigned eternally to any

Limbo However I must assert that one should strive to avoid Hell at all personal costs The reason for and reality of Hell is a great mystery but none the less it is not a fun place to go So definitely strive for eternal salvation so that you can enjoy the mysteries and intrigue of absolutely all Souls whether Human Prehistoric Hominid Extraterrestrial or Ultraterrestrial in nature Heaven is definitely a lot more fun than Hell So do not be lax in your moral life and do lots of acts of charity for others for those in your own family and extended family for your friends class mates coworkers and comrades and even for your enemies The Human Soul is an odd reality The identity of each Soul is simple yet each soul has perhaps an unlimited number of features perhaps vastly infinitely so So each soul has an identity or a principle of identity despite having an enormously complex existential structure and as for as the faculties and accidental properties to say the least also an enormously complex ontological structure The unifying principle or one ness of each soul is paradoxical in light of the structural complexity of the Soul In order to manifest one ness of human personal sentient identity this one ness or self ness principle of each Human Soul has to be profoundly so so it seems in order to maintain cohesive personal sentient identity and to ensure that a given souls accidental properties and features and semi substantial or facultative properties and features belong to a given soul and not another soul Thus the one ness of each soul seems almost as if the personal identity of each soul is super unitary or more one than one My reasoning is that if the soul is one then the soul must be extremely one given the potential enormously complex nature of the accidental and facultative composition of the soul Now each differential existential element of the human soul may plausibly have its own set of characteristics Each of these characteristics can be said to by a bit of information To find out more I welcome you to read this book GOD BLESS Jim The Soul James M. Essig,2015-11-05 An interesting topic for consideration is the mechanism by which each soul of the deceased stays together or remains congealed so as not to dissolve decay or fade out of existence without union with a living body Such an existential anchor of the integrity of the soul would be something special and would perhaps be the most primitive or existential grounding principle of and within the soul The existential congealing principle would be of primary importance in the natural immortality of each and every human soul In a sense the congealing principle alludes to its existential transcendence of the ontology of the semi substantial aspects of the soul or faculties and of the purely accidental aspects of each soul The self congealing mechanism of the soul may even have primacy and transcendence over and of the substance of each and every human soul I consider the following functional operator to define the extent of the existential transcendence of the congealing principle of the soul with respect to the substance faculties and accidental aspects of each soul The operator also considers such transcendence regarding the ultra unconscious unconscious sub conscious and consciousness of each soul as well as the heuristics of the ID ego and super ego but also the vegetative sensitive and intellective life of each soul f Context Specific congeal transcendence Substance faculties and accidental aspects ultra unconscious unconscious subconscious consciousness ID ego and super ego vegetative sensitive and intellective life The above operator is context specific as indicated near its beginning This thus allows for the operator to have differing values based on the context of the specific expressions it is a part of Herein we consider the magnitude or scope of the congealing principle of the soul including but not limited to the transcendence of the congealing principle as a function of the second existential portion completion derivative of the first and second time derivatives of the power of the creation of a Soul based on the potential number of potential relation based ways the Human Soul can be characterized by the capacity of the Human Soul to come into existence based on the ever growing the number of situational world lines that a given Human Soul a given ET soul or a given UT soul can transcend taking into about the set of physical microstates and objective emotional states for the future potential aggregated created population of souls as such where for each soul the number of objective emotional states is defined We preface the above mentioned operator to expressions for the second existential portion completion derivatives of the first and second time derivatives of the power of the creation of the human soul to indicate the scope of the congealing principle so considered

Essig,2014-07-05 This book is Part 6 of a serious attempt to advance the philosophy of the Human Soul I as author make no claim that the scope of the content represents Catholic Teaching and Dogmatic Truths even though I consider myself a conservative Catholic In this lengthy series many new ideas and concepts on the subject of the human soul are presented Heavy use of set theory and counting algorithms is made in an attempt to probe speculative infinite quantities and qualities of the human soul However many of the 251 chapters in this multi part series are devoid of any mathematical formulations so that those unfamiliar with advanced math can appreciate the subject chapters

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. PART 24 James M. Essig,2015-08-01 Now suppose that at least some souls in Hell are existentially annihilated In a sense such souls would still have reality if for no other reason than the ontological laws of cosmic information conservation Each such soul thus annihilated would have its effect on the remainder of coupled creation as information produced by the causal feedback mechanisms between each such soul and the rest of creation while the soul existed Based on the eternal duration of Hell perhaps even persons having their souls annihilated will per due forever perhaps even in terms of sentient and even advanced experience Otherwise the moral meaning of eternal responsibility for ones actions in this life would have no existential precedent or meaning Accordingly each soul so annihilated would per due in its reality to the extent that the information defining the soul is conserved. This information would be forever imprinted in every cosmic world line thus effected or coupled with the soul as the soul was still existing and then afterward as secondary tertiary and so on reverberating feed back loops from among the ever growing set of world lines coming into existence and those already in existence for which the souls information is transferred by intermediary principles. Note that by world lines the physical cosmos Heaven Purgatory Limbo and Hell are considered. However I must assert that one should strive to avoid Hell at all personal costs. The reason for and reality of Hell is a great mystery but none the less it is not a fun place to go. So definitely strive for eternal salvation so that you can enjoy the mysteries and intrigue of absolutely all Souls whether Human Prehistoric Hominid Extraterrestrial or Ultraterrestrial in nature. Heaven is definitely a lot more fun than Hell. So do not be lax in your moral life and do lots of acts of charity for others for those in your own family and extended family for your friends class mates coworkers and comrades and even for your enemies. Note that I consider myself a Scholastic and believe as did Saint Thomas Aquinas that even the most severe fires of Hell do not and cannot annihilate the souls therein confined not even after an eternity. So this book is simply an attempt to speculate in toy model forms on the potential greatness of the human personal identity even in the cases that at least some souls would be annihilated.

The Soul: Our Innermost Eternal Sparkling Diamond. PART 36 James Essig, 2015-12-11 An interesting topic for consideration is the mechanism by which each soul of the deceased stays together or remains congealed so as not to dissolve decay or fade out of existence without union with a living body. Such an existential anchor of the integrity of the soul would be something special and would perhaps be the most primitive or existential grounding principle of and within the soul. The existential congealing principle would be of primary importance in the natural immortality of each and every human soul. In a sense the congealing principle alludes to its existential transcendence of the ontology of the semi substantial aspects of the soul or faculties and of the purely accidental aspects of each soul. The self congealing mechanism of the soul may even have primacy and transcendence over and of the substance of each and every human soul. Herein I consider existential congealing principle of the soul with respect to the degree of soul oneness or identity.
