

SOUND RECORDING PRACTICE

A photograph of a recording studio. In the foreground, a person with short hair, wearing a light-colored t-shirt, is seated and facing a large, complex mixing console. Their right hand is on one of the faders. The console is filled with numerous sliders, knobs, and buttons. In the background, a computer monitor displays a software interface. To the right of the monitor is a large black studio monitor with a red circular logo. The room is dimly lit with warm, orange-toned lights, creating a professional and focused atmosphere.
