

7 WAYS TO STAY SAFE ON CYBER MONDAY

Last year, 300,000 Americans were victims of online fraud – and it cost them a total of $52 million. The FBI logged more than 2,000 complaints a day. Not surprisingly, much of this fraud happened around the holidays. Here's how to protect yourself...

1 Shop secure sites.

You can tell by the little lock symbol in the top left corner of your browser bar, and by the URL, which starts with HTTPS instead of just HTTP.

2. Shop sites you know and others trust.

If you haven't shopped safely at that site before, search for reviews about it. If those are negative, shop elsewhere.

3 Don't use a search engine.

Search retailers' sites, because sophisticated scammers try to add deceptive or even malicious links to your search results.

4 Use a secure connection.

Even if you do all this, your personal data is at risk if you shop using the Wi-Fi network at your favorite coffeehouse. So shop online from home.

5 Don't use debit cards.

If you do get scammed or hacked, credit cards offer a lot of fraud protection. Debit cards offer almost none.

6 Don't reuse passwords.

The best deals often require you to register with the retailer. If you can get by as a "guest," do it. But if you must create a password, make it new and don't repeat it elsewhere.

7. Review your credit card statements

You should be doing this year-round, but it's especially important during the holidays.

Guillén, 2020-08-25 AN INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER Wall Street Journal Bestseller, A Porchlight Book Bestseller, Financial Times Best Books of 2020, Yahoo Finance Favorite Business Books of 2020, JP Morgan NextList 2021 selection. Bold provocative illuminates why we're having fewer babies, the middle class is stagnating, unemployment is shifting, and new powers are rising. ADAM GRANT The world is changing drastically before our eyes. Will you be prepared for what comes next? A groundbreaking analysis from one of the world's foremost experts on global trends, including analysis on how COVID-19 will amplify and accelerate each of these changes. Once upon a time, the world was neatly divided into prosperous and backward economies. Babies were plentiful, workers outnumbered retirees, and people aspired towards the middle class. They yearned to own homes and cars. Companies didn't need to see any further than Europe and the United States to do well. Printed money was legal tender for all debts, public and private. We grew up learning how to play the game, and we expected the rules to remain the same as we took our first job, started a family, saw our children grow up, and went into retirement with our finances secure. That world and those rules are over. By 2030, a new reality will take hold, and before you know it, there will be more grandparents than grandchildren. The middle class in Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa will outnumber the US and Europe combined. The global economy will be driven by the non-Western consumer for the first time in modern history. There will be more global wealth owned by women than men There will be more robots than workers There will be more computers than human brains There will be more currencies than countries All these trends currently underway will converge in the year 2030 and change everything you know about culture the economy and the world According to Mauro F Guillen the only way to truly understand the global transformations underway and their impacts is to think laterally That is using peripheral vision or approaching problems creatively and from unorthodox points of view Rather than focusing on a single trend climate change or the rise of illiberal regimes for example Guillen encourages us to consider the dynamic inter play between a range of forces that will converge on a single tipping point 2030 that will be for better or worse the point of no return 2030 is both a remarkable guide to the coming changes and an exercise in the power of lateral thinking thereby revolutionizing the way you think about cataclysmic change and its consequences

Astra Taylor,2014-03-04 From a cutting edge cultural commentator and documentary filmmaker a bold and brilliant challenge to cherished notions of the Internet as the great democratizing force of our age The Internet has been hailed as a place where all can be heard and everyone can participate equally But how true is this claim In a seminal dismantling of techno utopian visions The People's Platform argues that for all that we tweet and like and share the Internet in fact reflects and amplifies real world inequities at least as much as it ameliorates them Online just as off line attention and influence largely accrue to those who already have plenty of both What we have seen in the virtual world so far Astra Taylor says has been not a revolution but a rearrangement Although Silicon Valley tycoons have eclipsed Hollywood moguls a handful of giants like Amazon Apple Google and Facebook still dominate our lives And the worst habits of the old media model the pressure to be quick and sensational to seek easy celebrity to appeal to the broadest possible public have proliferated online where every click can be measured and where aggregating the work of others is the surest way to attract eyeballs and ad revenue In a world where culture is free creative work has diminishing value and advertising fuels the system the new order looks suspiciously just like the old one We can do better Taylor insists The online world does offer an unprecedented opportunity but a democratic culture that supports diverse voices work of lasting value and equitable business practices will not appear as a consequence of technology alone If we want the Internet to truly be a people s platform we will have to make it so
