A DIY Smart Home Guide: Tools for Automating Your Home Monitoring and Security Using Arduino, ESP8266, and Android Robert Chin, 2020-03-27 Publisher's Note: Products purchased from Third Party sellers are not guaranteed by the publisher for quality, authenticity, or access to any online entitlements included with the product. Design and build custom devices that work through your phone to control your home remotely. Setting up a smart home can be costly, intimidating, and invasive. This hands-on guide presents you with an accessible and cheap way to do it yourself using free software that will enable your home and your mobile devices to communicate. A DIY Smart Home Guide: Tools for Automating Your Home Monitoring and Security Using Arduino ESP8266 and Android contains step-by-step plans for easy-to-build projects that work through your phone to control your home environment remotely. All the projects in the book are geared towards helping you create a smart home with fun and useful examples such as wireless temperature and humidity monitors, automated lights, sensors that can trigger alarms in the event of broken glass, fire, window entry, or water heater leakage, and much more. All projects can be accomplished with no previous knowledge for those with some background in C/C++ or JAVA; the projects can be customized. All projects use easy, free, flexible, open-source platforms such as Arduino. Focuses on real-world remote control activations for protecting the home. Written by a smart home expert and experienced author.

Builder, 1991 Wireless Smart Home Control System with Future Update Capability Hamdare Safa, 2014-12-11 Monitoring appliances and other home and office electronics remotely over the Internet is no longer a futuristic dream. Though not yet pervasive, Internet-connected systems for homes and businesses are on the market and evolving quickly. As the networking technologies are developing rapidly, more users want to control their home appliances from outside the home. In this book, the proposed system lets you monitor your home from any location using an Internet. It provides two subsystems: controlling devices over the Internet using IP protocol and devices controlled through a mobile application using GPRS protocol. The system enables the user to check and, if needed, change the current status of the appliance at the same time or at a specified time in the future via a user interface device. The design of this system is based on an embedded controller which is connected to a PC-based home Web server via RS232 serial port. The software of the system is based on the combination of Java 1.6 J2ME and PHP 5.0. The system is scalable and allows additional appliances to be added to it with no major change to its core. Other than home automation, this technology has a wide range of applications.

Homes and Homebuilding, 1989 National Association of Home Builders Staff, 1989 Smart Homes For Dummies Danny Briere, Hurley, 2003-01-03 Most people have had some contact with a network through their work environment: computer local area networks (LANs) in the office, control networks in factories, telephone networks in many mid-sized or larger businesses. The Internet itself is one big network. Although some folks may think of a network as simply something that helps them do their work, the network concept has begun to move from the workplace to the home address. Smart home
