Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson, 2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to grab and go meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then next time you've made a mini meal prepped Good Meal Prepping though meal prepping refers to making 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like making your lunches for the week all at once instead of making your lunch every day You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping isn't a waste of time and it's not outside your plan or budget When making your meal plan for the week, ask yourself the question: "What will I eat each day?" You can make meals without having to do it every day Meal prepping is not for everyone It is good for people who value convenience and efficiency more than variety With meal prepping you can eat the same thing for a few days in a row so you don't get bored with food Meal prepping is not for everyone If having a nutritious meal that is maximizing your time and budget is more valuable to you than doing something different every day, meal prepping is a great idea I've generally not seen a meal prep for myself or maybe one other person do a whole meal Meal prep for a whole family would be quite difficult but if you're a family of four, it would be a great idea If food is stored in the refrigerator for a long time, it can become a slow motion in the kitchen In addition to the way food is packed, the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the quality of your refrigerated meals So the length of time it's acceptable to have a meal's texture and flavor will be a big factor Always begin with the refrigerator guidelines that the FDA and the National Institute of Health give you your own preferences In general, I don't like to eat more than five days worth of food but I find that that's a bit of a stretch for food that's not too far from the refrigerator
