South Africa Alexander Johnston, 2014-09-25 The latest volume in the Inventing the Nation series this book examines the process of nation building in post apartheid South Africa

South Africa Alexander Johnston, 2014 Revisiting State Personhood and World Politics Bianca Naude, 2021-12-16 Breathing fresh air into debates surrounding foreign policy and interstate relations Bianca Naude presents a holistic theory of states as collectives of people that cannot be reduced to their individual constituents Moving among current research on the ontological status of the state alongside important arguments in support of the state personhood thesis Naude begins by exploring Freud's personality theory and the ways in which this theory has evolved over time in response to newer insights from the field of experimental psychology Recognizing that Freud's work is in many ways outdated she considers more recent literature on narcissism as an aspect of self esteem rather than a form of psychopathology drawing specifically on Kohut's expansion of the concept of narcissism as a normal feature of personality development Using the South African state as a case study Naude demonstrates the various ways in which the state presents itself to the outside world on the one hand and how it wishes to see itself on the other She further considers how narcissistic defenses help protect the state's ego from criticism and self judgments Revisiting State Personhood and World Politics will help readers understand how the state sees itself why or when the state experiences shame humiliation guilt or pride and how it responds to these self conscious emotions It will be a valuable resource to researchers and students of International Relations

Creating African Fashion Histories JoAnn McGregor, Heather Akou, Nicola Stylianou, 2022-04-05 Creating African Fashion Histories examines the stark disjuncture between African self fashioning and museum practices Conventionally African clothing textiles and body adornments were classified by museums as examples of trade goods art and ethnographic materials never as fashion Counterposing the dynamism of African fashion with museums historic holdings thus provides a unique way of confronting ways in which coloniality persists in knowledge and institutions today This volume brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars and curators to debate sources and approaches for constructing African fashion histories and to examine their potential for decolonizing museums fashion studies and global cultural history The editors of this volume seek to answer questions such as How can researchers use museum collections to reveal traces of past self fashioning that are obscured by racialized forms of knowledge and institutional practice How can archival visual oral ethnographic and online sources be deployed to capture the diversity of African sartorial pasts How can scholars and curators decolonize the Eurocentric frames of thinking encapsulated in historic collections and current curricula Can new collections of African fashion decolonize museum practice From Moroccan fashion bloggers to upmarket Lagos designers the voices in this ground breaking collection reveal fascinating histories and geographies of circulation within and beyond the continent and its diasporic communities

William Kentridge Carolyn Christov-Bakargiev,William Kentridge,Kunstverein M nchen,1998 Artwork by William Kentridge Text by Carolyn Christov Bakargiev China and Africa Ian Taylor,2007-01-24 With China s rise to the status of world power trade and political links between Africa and China have been escalating at an astonishing rate Ian Taylor an expert in this field gives a comprehensive assessment of relations between China and Africa Social cohesion in Gauteng Richard Ballard,Christian Hamann,Kate Joseph,Thembani Mkhize,2019-03-14 Increasing attacks on foreigners including in April 2015 along with a succession of widely publicised incidents of racism have triggered a new round of soul searching in South Africa Why after the comprehensive defeat of apartheid and its ideology does prejudice seem so intractable What kinds of interventions could help reduce these troubling events How can society be made more cohesive Suggestions about what to do in the face of these challenges are sometimes speculative and wishful They consist of appeals to the better nature of ordinary people or an assumption that the feel good moments of the democratic transition can be re enacted to bind everyone together Calls for social cohesion and tolerance seem often to dodge the complex vicious cycles that lead to the instances of intolerance that erupt in the media or in communities This Research Report centres on better understanding the current dynamics of social cohesion in Gauteng It tackles five guiding questions each of which corresponds to a chapter 1 How has social cohesion become a goal in post apartheid South Africa and what are the key limitations resulting from this understanding of social progress 2 In a global context how is social cohesion defined and what are the main contestations about this ideal of social change 3 How do the respondents in the GCRO s Quality of Life IV 2015 16 survey respond to questions on levels of trust claims to belonging by different race groups and the place of migrants and gays and lesbians in Gauteng 4 How have past and present initiatives to improve social cohesion conceived of the problem they are attempting to address and what is their scale of intervention 5 What are the various methodologies that have been used in past and present initiatives to improve social cohesion A key premise of this research was that our society has an enormous accumulation of experience in trying to tackle anti social interactions and to address social injustices that are in various ways shaped by race class nationality gender sexuality and other identities The last two chapters of this report are based on a review of more than 60 social cohesion initiatives They analyse the wide variety of actors involved in such work the different ways in which they conceive of their objectives and the different scales at which they operate These actors pursue dozens of different methodologies including sports and dialogue arts psychology urban design and public campaigns This dispersed capacity through society is important because it represents experience based responses to the ways in which anti social behaviour and social injustice are reproduced In attempting to determine a programme of action we argue that we should learn from and extend existing and past attempts to tackle these difficulties

Dictionary of National Biography Leslie Stephen,1913

Decolonizing Democratic Education ,2008-01-01 The essays in this edited collection open up a hopeful dialogue about the existing state of democratic education and the ways in which it could be re imagined as an inclusive democratized space of possibility and engagement Proceeding from a critique that questions the dominance of Western liberal understandings of democratic education as a series of rational culturally neutral acts undertaken by individuals who conceive of democracy and the common good in universalist and fundamentally exclusionary terms the contributors give voice to those whose ideas histories cultures and current understanding of the world is not highlighted in the dominant relationships of schooling From a variety of theoretical and pragmatic approaches the chapters in this collection engage the dialectics of history power colonization and decolonization identity memory citizenship Aboriginal rights development and globalization all in the context of providing a critique of educational systems relations structures and curricula that seem badly in need of reform While the contributors who have diverse scholarly interests are not in a direct dialogue with one another their different foci should nevertheless inter topically inform each other The book should interest students and researchers in the general foundations of education democracy and education citizenship education comparative and international education postcolonial studies in education and cultural studies in education National Days/National Ways Linda K. Fuller, 2004-11-30 A team of unique contributors describes the internal and external repercussions of holidays and celebrations in more than a dozen countries
