Answers to Teenagers' 50 Toughest Questions Phil Bell, 2012-03-01 If you've ever felt unprepared when students want to talk about tough topics then this is the book for you. Answers to Teenagers' 50 Toughest Questions will equip you with biblical practical specific responses to the thorniest questions students may toss your way. Fallen Angels Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2001. Integrating Literature in the Content Areas Sharon Kane, 2017-05-12 This practical accessible resource will help future and practicing teachers integrate literature into their middle school or high school classrooms while also addressing content area standards and improving the literacy skills of their students. Two introductory chapters are followed by five chapters that each cover a different genre: Chapter 3 Informational Books, Chapter 4 Fiction, Chapter 5 Biography, Autobiography and Memoir, Chapter 6 Poetry, and Chapter 7 How to and Hands on Books. Each genre chapter consists of four parts: Part 1 Discusses the genre and how content area teachers can use books within that genre to further content learning and enhance literacy skills; Part 2 Offers hands on instructional strategies and activities using literature with activities for use in a variety of disciplines; Part 3 Presents individual author studies, three or four per chapter, with bibliographies and guidelines for using the authors' books in content area courses; Part 4 Features an annotated bibliography of specially selected children and young adult literature for that genre, organized by content area. The annotations provide information about the book which can be used to prepare booktalks and teaching ideas for using in a specific content area. Altogether these sections contain more than 600 annotated entries, tabbed by subject area including art, English language arts, languages and culture, math and technology, music, PE, health, science and social studies, history. A Discussion on the Important Question, Do the Scriptures Teach the Doctrine of the Final Holiness and Happiness of All Mankind Abel Charles Thomas, 1845. Reading Revelation Joseph L. Trafton, 2005. Trafton has produced a clear understandable insightful reading of the book of Revelation, not an easy task for a book that has left many readers puzzled and confused. One of the particular strengths of Trafton's commentary is his close attention to the structure of John's work and the internal connections between various passages of the book. Readers will also benefit from Trafton's identification of John's extensive indebtedness to the Hebrew Bible for much of his imagery and ideas. Mitchell G. Reddish, O. L. Walker, Professor of Christian Studies and Chair, Department of Religious Studies, Stetson University. Study Guide for Use with Money, Banking, and Financial Markets James Fackler, 2005-02. Read on to discover the awesome Biblical news that God loves you because he loves all mankind. Jeff thanks God for the patience and prayers of many Christians and especially a few Christians who showed him grace while he thrashed through life searching for the answers that were right in

In Reading and Re-reading Scripture at Qumran Moshe J. Bernstein gathers more than three decades of his work on diverse aspects of biblical interpretation in the Dead Sea Scrolls. The essays range from broad surveys of the genres of biblical interpretation in these texts to more narrowly focused studies and close readings of specific documents. Volume I focuses on the book of Genesis with a substantial portion being dedicated to studies of the Genesis Apocryphon and Commentary on Genesis A. Volume II contains several historical and programmatic essays with specific studies focusing on legal material in the DSS and the pesharim. Under the former rubric the documents known as 4QRevised Pentateuch, 4QOrdinances, 4QMMT and the Temple Scroll are discussed.

Women, Men, and Spiritual Power John Wayland Coakley, 2006

In Women, Men, and Spiritual Power, John Coakley explores male-authored narratives of the lives of Catherine of Siena, Hildegard of Bingen, Angela of Foligno, and six other female prophets or mystics of the late Middle Ages. His readings reveal the complex personal and literary relationships between these women and the clerics who wrote about them. Coakley's work also undermines simplistic characterizations of male control over women, offering an important contribution to medieval religious history. Coakley shows that these male-female relationships were marked by a fundamental tension between power and fascination the priests and monks were supposed to hold authority over the women entrusted to their care but they often switched roles as the men became captivated with the women's spiritual gifts In narratives of such women the male authors reflect directly on the relationship between the women's powers and their own Coakley argues that they viewed these relationships as gendered partnerships that brought together female mystical power and male ecclesiastical authority without placing one above the other Women Men and Spiritual Power chronicles a wide ranging experiment in the balance of formal and informal powers in which it was assumed to be thoroughly imaginable for both sorts of authority in their distinctly gendered terms to coexist and build on each other The men's writings reflect an extended moment in western Christianity when clerics had enough confidence in their authority to actually question its limits After about 1400 however clerics underwent a crisis of confidence and such a questioning of institutional power was no longer considered safe Instead of seeing women as partners their revelatory powers began to be viewed as evidence of witchcraft Telecourse Study
