Dirty Like Ash - Kentucky Love Yvonne Westphal, 2024-04-08 Still Reading Romance Josefine Smith, Kathleen W. Taylor Kollman, 2025-04-22

In a world that commodifies feminism is adapting romance novels for small and big screen projects and the Romance Writers Association is evolving to a more inclusive representative group it is imperative for researchers to reevaluate the cultural assumptions and gender norming work happening in the romance genre. It is time to question the cultural capital of traditional archetypes, explore the experience of romance readers and question how romance and cultural studies researchers create quantitative, qualitative and mixed methods research. This work centers around a data set collected with a revised version of Janice Radway's Reading the Romance survey that will be shared with all the authors of this anthology. By having access to this pool, authors will have the opportunity to explore different elements of reader experience and cultural norms in romance fiction and potentially reflect on changes since Janice Radway's seminal work. The norms and negotiations readers experience while consuming romance is especially interesting as romancelandia becomes a more mainstream part of popular culture with the popularity of Bridgerton and romance series like Ice Planet Barbarians exploding on BookTok. No other book in romance or popular culture studies identifies a data set as the connecting element and to do so creates an exciting opportunity to create a more inclusive study of popular romance, offer truly interdisciplinary research on the question of how readers read romance and generate diverse areas of future scholarship. This edited volume explores multiple issues in romance fiction based on survey data from real romance readers. An updated version of Janice Radway's influential survey looking at romance readers in the early 1980s, this time scholars explore romance readers' habits and attitudes in the twenty-first century. Each contributor in this volume uses the same survey data to make unique statements about gender, intersectionality, popular fiction and popular culture. By using a common data set but approaching it from different perspectives, this unique volume is able to apply multiple methodologies to the same subject.

TikTok Literary Communities Cayla Caruso, 2025. Beginning on Tumblr in 2014, the Dark Academia internet aesthetic and later literary genre took hold of audiences and entranced them into its dark, moody, mysterious world. As social media evolved to the current day, Dark Academia literature has found a foothold on one of the most popular social media platforms TikTok Current research and literature about this community does not exist prompting the question about the characteristics of the Dark Academia literature community on TikTok This thesis uses an Ethnographic Content Analysis ECA approach to understand the Dark Academia community its video characteristics its members and its widely accepted canon of literature
