defined the 20th century while simultaneously assaulting us with new historical upheavals that demand responsibility and critical consideration As the historical text bears traces of the writing subject the element of deception is remarkable meaning historical memory easily lends itself to forgery and false and subjective projections As such how do we think about the past about history about memory and how does memory function Is history an objective account a collection of dry reliable facts Is it an imaginative narrative tinged with nostalgia a projection of our wishful thinking the workings of our subjective perceptions and attitudes our states of mind The essays in this volume focus on the relevance of the past to the present and future in terms of the shifting attitudes to personal and collective experiences that have shaped dominant Western critical discourses about history memory and nostalgia The contributors here take issue with the epistemological hermeneutic ethical and aesthetic dimensions of the representational practices through which we revisit and revise the meaning of the past
