The Silent Boy Lois Lowry, 2003-04-28 From a Newbery Medal winner a novel of tragedy and friendship in a turn of the century farm town narrated by a perceptive large hearted child Kirkus Reviews Katy Thatcher the bright and curious daughter of the town doctor was fascinated by her father's work and even as a child she knew that she too wanted to be a doctor She wanted to know about people Perhaps it was this her insatiable curiosity or simply the charm of Jacob's gentle intimacy with animals large and small that fueled their friendship Although Jacob never spoke to her or even looked at her directly Katy grew to understand him from the moments they spent together quietly singing to the horses She knew there was meaning in the sounds he made and purpose behind his movements So when events took an unexpected and tragic turn it was Katy alone who could unravel the mystery of what had occurred and why A two time recipient of the Newbery Medal the New York Times bestselling author of Number the Stars presents a sensitive moving story of a young girl growing up at the beginning of the twentieth century and the influence of the farm community around her Through Katy's eyes readers can see the human face so often hidden under modern psychological terminology and experience the haunting impact of her friendship with the silent boy The author balances humor and generosity with the obstacles and injustice of Katy s world to depict a complete picture of the turn of the century Publishers Weekly starred review The Silent Boy Andrew Taylor,2015-10-20 From the No 1 bestselling author of THE AMERICAN BOY comes a brilliant new historical thriller set during the French Revolution The Silent Boy ,2008 Grade 5 8 A book for young people with an oddly adult spin THE SILENT BOY revolves around Katy Thatcher s reminiscence of her early years The privileged daughter of the town doctor she observes the intersection between that life of privilege and the working class realities of her family s hired girls The story also examines Katy s relationship with Jacob the silent boy regarded by most as touched and the tragic consequences brought about by the mores of the time Karen Allen s sturdy reading features a measured pace and a quiet tone with an appropriately old time feel Her unvoiced narration effectively suggests an old woman looking back upon her earlier life by a famous mime and teacher      Big British Bluff Subir, Today many Indians are unaware that World War II was once fought in India's North eastern region The twin battles of Imphal and Kohima were so fierce that in 2013 a poll conducted in London recognized these as Britain's Greatest Battle But in the history of India's independence movement they have largely been eclipsed While global historical accounts have framed them as a Japanese invasion of India the truth is they were parts of India's armed Liberation War against British colonial rule spearheaded by the Indian National Army under Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose with the audacious ambition of uprooting the British Raj from the soil of India British Prime Minister Churchill knew it well However fearing a cascading effect resulting in a nationwide uprising in support of Bose's Liberation Army Churchill orchestrated a smear campaign to misrepresent this attack as a mere Japanese invasion rather than acknowledging its true nationalist origins Against this backdrop the story eruditely recounts the gamut of India's major revolutionary movements culminating in the full fledged Liberation War which was played down and belittled by the conspiracies of the Allied forces of World War II to conceal it from becoming known to the world The book highlights how British propagandists actively embarked on a vicious slander campaign against Subhas Bose to undermine India's quest for freedom deliberately seeking to camouflage the daring legacy of Subhas Bose and all others Yet in the final analysis the story narrates how Netaji's Liberation War subsequently forced the British to free India      Overland Monthly, 1895      The Cambridge Modern History Sir Adolphus William Ward, George Walter Prothero, Stanley Mordaunt Leathes, 1909      Meat Wilbur Daniel Steele, 1928 A mother's attempt to protect her abnormal child has disastrous effects on the rest of the family Cf Hanna A Mirror for the nation      Chambers's Cyclopaedia of English Literature Robert Chambers, 1879      Lincoln Literary Collection, Designed for School-room and Family Circle John Piersol McCaskey, 1897      Ilderim Queen Marie (consort of Ferdinand I, King of Romania), 1926
