continuing rise in popularity over the past decade of North American pop culture. Driven by die-hard dedicated fans, anime can be found all over comic shops, conventions, and social media, all large in discussing or debating the merits of their favorite anime fandoms. Public libraries have been quick to catch on and have long been an excellent gathering place for this community of passionate consumers, be it for movie screenings or anime and manga collection offerings. With the recent widespread adoption of English dubbed content and the explosion of anime merchandise sales outside of Japan, anime and manga are more accessible to North Americans than ever before. In addition to providing a long list of programming examples and ideas, this practical guide will teach librarians how to capture the interest of this fandom community, why the library is the perfect place to do so, and how to expand this thematic programming into further learning and socialization opportunities. Special features include real examples of current and successful anime club programs created by librarians, anime is not just cartoons, discovering opportunities for youth engagement, STEM learning, and vital youth socialization within Japanese animation. Clear, concise instructions for incorporating one-off or series anime events for all budget ranges and age groups. How to avoid cultural appropriation by engaging your community to make the most out of possible partnerships and resources. Anime club party plans for a wide range of different holidays. How to obtain public performance rights for anime screenings. Where to find inclusive anime representations of diverse communities. Tropical Fish Hobbyist, 1989

Gender and Care in Teaching Young Children Denise Hodgins, 2018-04-01. Gender and Care in Pedagogical Relations with Young Children is an exploration of how children, educators, and things become implicated in gendered caring practices. Drawing on a collaborative research study with early childhood educators and young children, the author explores what an engagement with human and non-human relationality does to complicate conversations about gender and care. By employing a material feminist analysis of early childhood education, this book rethinks dominant Western individualist pedagogies in order to politically reposition them within a relationality framework. Motorboating, 1952-01 Heating, Piping, and Air Conditioning, 1946. Issues for Jan 1935 contain a directory of heating, piping, and air conditioning equipment. The Christian Union, Henry Ward Beecher, 1874. The Florists' Review, Gilbert Leonard Grant, 1962. Florists' review, 1962.
