

FINANCIAL AID FOR COLLEGE

Don't panic about those scary high costs of attendance you see posted on college websites. Most of students actually pay through grants, scholarships, and other cost-free help from schools or others. To make sure your family gets its fair share of financial aid, follow these very easy steps.

1. ESTABLISH A PLAN

☐ HAVE FAMILY MEETING

There's only so far you can go to carry the burden of your own education. Have a meeting to discuss the cost of attendance and what each family member is able to contribute to the cost. If you have a large family, you'll need to make a budget that includes each child's education, including books, supplies, and other things you'll need to get them through college.

☐ FIND A FINANCIAL SAFETY NET

Look for ways to help pay for college when you're unable to do so. Look for ways to get help from private colleges, which may offer a variety of grants and scholarships. Look for ways to get help from the government, such as the Pell Grant, which is available to students with low income.

2. MAKE A PLAN

☐ COMPLETE THE FAFSA

Even if you don't need financial aid, it's a good idea to complete the FAFSA, which is required for many other financial aid programs. The FAFSA is a form that you fill out and send to the federal government, which then sends the information to the colleges you list on it.

☐ CHECK WITH THE COLLEGE

When you're applying to college, look for ways to help pay for college when you're unable to do so.
