Summit Of Treasures Buddhist Cave Art Of Dazu China:

Summit of Treasures Angela Falco Howard,2001 DEGREESThe monumental cave complexes of the Baodigshan site at Dazu in Sichuan province and their vast treasure trove of Buddhist sculpture and painting have been little studied relative to other Buddhist cave art in China This is the first English language publication to reveal and explain the incredible artworks hidden in this remote site dating from the Song dynasty and inspired by the profound tenets of Esoteric Buddhism Using brilliant color photographs and detailed line drawings Professor Angela Falco Howard presents the caves in the didactic order intended by their creators explaining their iconography symbolism and the hidden meanings in both the individual elements and overall design Finally the author places this magnificent construction within the context of an indigenous style of Buddhist sculpture that flourished in Sichuan province between the 11th and 13th cent

Ritual and Representation in Chinese Buddhism

Karil J. Kucera,2016-01-28 Includes 159 color images Baodingshan consists of a monastic complex and two rock carved areas Little Buddha Bend and Great Buddha Bend located in Dazu in western China and dates from the Southern Song period The complex is fundamentally different from earlier Buddhist rock carved sites in China in its construction and layout Foregoing traditional niche based iconography for large deeply cut reliefs reaching dimensions as great as eight meters high by twenty meters wide within Baodingshan's Great Buddha Bend the carved works flow from one tableau into another The site contains both texts and images related to the main schools of Buddhist thought This book presents an integrated analysis of all of the components of Great Buddha Bend within the greater Baodingshan site something that was lacking in earlier studies Written to provide guidance to the site for a wide spectrum of readers specialists and non specialists alike it provides a clear explanation of the major iconographic features of the imagery as well as translations of the numerous accompanying carved Buddhist texts It also presents the basic tenets of Pure Land Chan Zen Huayan and Esoteric Buddhism in order to explain the features of these sects as seen represented in visual as well as textual form at the site Lastly with its focus on ritual use and audience reception from the 12th to the 21st century this study provides a new model for the discussion and evaluation of other religious sites as entities that organically evolve over time This study also includes new translations of both the inscribed Buddhist texts and secular inscriptions carved at the site dating from the twelfth through the twenty first centuries inscriptions left by educated elite soldiers and government officials highlighting regional issues related to continuity and change made visible at Baodingshan

The Zoomorphic Imagination in Chinese Art and Culture Jerome Silbergeld,Eugene Y. Wang,2016-10-31 China has an age old zoomorphic tradition The First Emperor was famously said to have had the heart of a tiger and a wolf The names of foreign tribes were traditionally written with characters that included animal radicals In modern times the communist government frequently referred to Nationalists as running dogs and President Xi Jinping vowing to quell corruption at all levels pledged to capture both the tigers and the flies Splendidly illustrated with works

ranging from Bronze Age vessels to twentieth century conceptual pieces this volume is a wide ranging look at zoomorphic and anthropomorphic imagery in Chinese art The contributors leading scholars in Chinese art history and related fields consider depictions of animals not as simple one for one symbolic equivalents they pursue in depth in complexity and in multiple dimensions the ways that Chinese have used animals from earliest times to the present day to represent and rhetorically stage complex ideas about the world around them examining what this means about China past and present In each chapter a specific example or theme based on real or mythic creatures is derived from religious political or other sources providing the detailed and learned examination needed to understand the means by which such imagery was embedded in Chinese cultural life Bronze Age taotie motifs calendrical animals zoomorphic modes in Tantric Buddhist art Song dragons and their painters animal rebuses Heaven sent auspicious horses and foreign sent tribute giraffes the fantastic specimens depicted in the Qing Manual of Sea Oddities the weirdly indeterminate creatures found in the contemporary art of Huang Yong Ping these and other notable examples reveal Chinese attitudes over time toward the animal realm explore Chinese psychology and patterns of imagination and explain some of the critical means and motives of Chinese visual culture The Zoomorphic Imagination in Chinese Art and Culture will find a ready audience among East Asian art and visual culture specialists and those with an interest in literary or visual rhetoric Contributors Sarah Allan Qianshen Bai Susan Bush Daniel Greenberg Carmelita Carma Hinton Judy Chungwa Ho Kristina Kleutghen Kathryn Liscomb Jennifer Purtle Jerome Silbergeld Henrik Srensen and Eugene Y Wang Esoteric Buddhism and the Tantras in East Asia Charles Orzech, Henrik Sørensen, Richard Payne, 2011 This volume the result of an international collaboration of forty scholars provides a comprehensive resource on Esoteric Buddhism and the Tantras in their Chinese Korean and Japanese contexts from the first few centuries of the common era to the present

The Great Wonders of China Jonathan Fenby, 2024-05-30 China is the oldest continuous civilization on earth and holds a unique global place in the 21st century this books uniquely wide focus shows what makes it such a special country with topics stretching from the natural wonders including mountains and rivers to the Silk Road the technological innovations of printing and the compass and the modern vibrant cities of today as well as famous monuments such as the Forbidden City in Beijing and the Great Wall In this new and updated edition a team of leading scholars from Asia and the West provide an unmatched account of this vast country Beyond the quality of the individual entries The Great Wonders of China provides an unmatched account of Chinese history and culture as well as an essential contribution to understanding and appreciating this ancient land

Buddhist Architecture Huu Phuoc Le, 2010 The volume thoroughly examines the origins and principal types of Buddhist architecture in Asia primarily between the third century BCE twelfth century CE with an emphasis on India It aims to construct shared architectural traits and patterns alongwith the derivative relationships between Indian and Asian Buddhist monuments It also discusses the historical antecedents in the Indus Civilization and the religious and philosophical foundations of the three schools of Buddhism and its founder Buddha Previously obscure topics such as Aniconic and Vajrayana Tantric architecture and the four holiest sites of Buddhism will also be covered in this comprehensive volume The author further investigates the influences of Buddhist architecture upon Islamic Christian and Hindu architecture that have been overlooked by past scholars Countless Sands Jeffrey Moser, Jason Protass, 2024-12-31 Countless Sands presents engaging analyses of the diverse relationships between Buddhism and the environment that existed in medieval Asia Recent years have witnessed a surge in publications across the humanities that advance powerful ethical and political arguments to account for the human failure to respond effectively to global climate change While the contributors to this volume are attuned to this challenge rather than present explicit political arguments they pursue a subtler effort to historicize the environment as a site and subject of Buddhist practice while providing research grounded in rigorous analysis of complex and fragmentary sources The volume thereby mitigates against the Orientalist East West binaries that have long informed the invocation of Buddhism in Euro American environmental discourses As the chapters collectively demonstrate there was no singular consistently Buddhist understanding of the natural world but innumerable varied engagements preserved in discrete texts images and artifacts Through specific case studies the authors consider such questions as How did premodern Buddhists understand what we today call the environment How did they think about their earth How when and where did the various processes of the earth actually impinge on the practices of historical Buddhists What kinds of environmental imaginations informed specific Buddhist practices In so doing the authors explore the connections between the ways in which historical Buddhist communities interacted with their environments and how they understood those environments In the broader field of Buddhist studies Countless Sands contributes to ongoing efforts to expand the locus of inquiry from textually based investigations of Buddhist doctrine to a broader examination of the complex and varied place of Buddhism in the lives of historical communities The book furthers this broader process by casting it in environmental terms and will engage readers looking for models of thought provoking historical analysis on environmental themes
