Act Practice Openai Deal:

Deconstructing Digital Capitalism and the Smart Society Mel van Elteren, 2025-01-01 Today's critics of big online platforms tend to consider privacy breaches monopolistic practices and the deployment of surveillance technologies as the main problems. Internet reformers suggest the answers to these issues reside in more and better regulations. While the questions of privacy, data, and size are indeed important, they are secondary, however, to a deeper set of concerns about platform ownership and control and who benefits from the current status quo. This book examines these issues and offers an historical overview and in-depth analysis of digital capitalism and its prevailing practices as it has become increasingly intertwined with various forms of online surveillance, behavior modification, and the delegation of managerial functions to algorithmic and automated systems in platform economies. The approach taken extends to the wider array of data-driven internet-connected and automated systems that involve digital devices and technologies centered on three smart spaces: the smart self, the smart home, and the smart city. Antitrust and other regulatory measures by the European Union and the United States that are aimed at restraining platform capitalism are also discussed. The focus in particular is on recent developments regarding artificial intelligence and their potentially harmful implications. This is followed by a critical look at proposals for more far-reaching institutional reforms revolving around the creation of forms of platform socialism that build partly on existing practices of platform cooperativism. The book concludes with a diagnosis of the global situation among the competing digital empires: the United States, the European Union, and China, and considers whether or not, under the present conditions, any form of democratic platform socialism could materialize on a wider scale in the near future. Product Portfolio

Management for Performance Rajat Baisya, James Burke, 2025-12-15 This book offers innovative strategies for designing an Integrated Product Portfolio Management (IPPM) system that prioritizes customers, quality, growth, and profits. It explores current frameworks for building product portfolios and provides creative ways to adapt to dynamic environments. The authors present practical solutions to overcome challenges and ensure products and services remain competitive amidst shifting stakeholder expectations, customer demands, economic changes, technological advancements, and social trends. The book includes case studies from different industries and showcases ways to balance product portfolios, analyze trends, adapt to changing market conditions, anticipate hurdles, and build flexible and sustainable product portfolios. It highlights the role of machine learning, including applications of ChatGPT, and examines the evolving nature of stakeholder capitalism, emphasizing environmental, social, and governance pressures. A practical guide for leaders and individuals looking to advance innovation, it offers personal, professional, and corporate guidance on ways to improve the odds of product and service success. This book will be a valuable resource for middle and senior managers, strategic planners, and product development professionals. It also will be of interest to students and faculty in marketing, product management, entrepreneurship, and small business management, project management, strategic management, and business leadership. Law in a Technological Context

Roger Brownsword,2025-08-20 This edited collection explores the disruptive effects of technology on law in particular the challenge presented to regulators as they strive to manage the transition from one technological state to another such as the transition from analogue to digital or from fossil fuels to green renewables and the opportunities and challenges presented as regulators transition from traditional rule based legal governance to governance that relies on new technologies and tools It brings together nine papers eight of which were published in the journal Law Innovation and Technology between 2009 and 2022 and the ninth of which was a TELOS conference paper that was given at King s College London in 2023 These papers are presented in three sets each set reflecting a particular theme for discussion within the broad field of law regulation and technology The organising ideas are law in context law in context becoming law in a technological context disruptive technologies and their impact on law the regulatory challenge presented by technological transition and the challenges and opportunities presented by a transition in the mode of governance from rules to tools Timely and forward looking this collection makes important inroads into broadening the field of legal study by placing law not simply in context but in what is now a technological context
