Worlds Without End Mary-Jane Rubenstein, 2014-02-11 Multiverse cosmologies imagine our universe as just one of a vast number of others While this idea has captivated philosophy religion and literature for millennia it is now being considered as a scientific hypothesis with different models emerging from cosmology quantum mechanics and string theory Beginning with ancient Atomist and Stoic philosophies Mary Jane Rubenstein links contemporary models of the multiverse to their forerunners and explores their current emergence One reason is the so called fine tuning of the universe nature s constants are so delicately calibrated it seems they have been set just right to allow life to emerge For some theologians these fine tunings are proof of God for others God is an insufficient explanation One compelling solution if all possible worlds exist somewhere then it is no surprise one of them happens to be suitable for life Yet this hypothesis replaces God with an equally baffling article of faith the existence of universes beyond before or after our own eternally generated yet forever inaccessible In sidestepping metaphysics multiverse scenarios collide with it producing their own counter theological narratives Rubenstein argues however that this interdisciplinary collision provides the condition of its scientific viability reconfiguring the boundaries among physics philosophy and religion

Celebrating God's Cosmic Perichoresis Bryan Jeongguk Lee, 2011-08-05 In the face of today s unprecedented ecological crisis Christianity is often seen not only as sharing in the guilt of causing this crisis but also as unwilling and incapable of providing any help in re envisioning the required new way of life on earth This view is justified when we consider how modern Christian theology has tended to denigrate the natural world and how the prevalent world deserting Christian eschatology forms a spirituality that is fundamentally insensitive and indifferent to nature In light of this a meaningful Christian contribution to today s world of enormous ecological suffering must lie in envisioning a fundamentally new ecological vision of humanity s relationship to nature as well as providing an ethical energy to transform our current path of self destruction In this book Bryan J Lee finds in Jurgen Moltmann s eschatological panentheism a viable pathway toward a Christian ecological re envisioning of the relationship between God and humanity and between humanity and nature Furthermore Lee demonstrates in a persuasive way how Christian worship can and should be the epicenter of ecological transformation of the society emphatically interpreting Christian worship as an ecological eschatological anticipation of God s cosmic perichoresis
