The Meccan Revelations Volume I:

The Meccan Revelations Muhyiddin Ibn Arabi, 2017-08-31 This is an English translation of the first volume of Ibn Arabi's famous book of al futuhat al makkiyya. The Meccan Revelations is considered the most important book in Islamic mysticism. Ibn al-rab started working on this book in Mecca in the year 598 AH 1202 AD, thus from here it takes its name where he received the immense knowledge that he had broadcasted in this huge book from a spirit he calls the passing young al fat al f t whom he met at the Kaaba. But it took him around thirty years to finish it in Damascus in the year 629 AH 1232 AD, and then he rewrote it again between 632 1235 and 636 1239, just two years before he passed away. The book consists of 560 chapters that vary in length between as short as half a page and as long as several hundreds. Although it is now mostly printed in four condensed volumes based on Bulaq edition, it is in total contained in 37 volumes according to Ibn al-rab's own arrangement, and each volume is normally divided into seven parts which may start or end regardless of chapters, thus some chapters are placed in more than one part or even more than one volume. Although this volume contains the first chapter of the five hundred and sixty chapters of the Fut t and a considerable part of the second chapter which is quite long, but we can consider this volume as an introduction to this immense book. As he normally did for other volumes, Ibn al-rab divided this volume into seven parts:

- 1 The First Part is a foreword khu bah to the book, but which can also be considered an abstract summary of Ibn al-rab's view of the world. He divided this foreword into two sections: in the first one he enclosed his spiritual addressing before the Prophet may Allah have mercy and peace upon him and his Companions and other prophets who all met in the world of imaginal realm lam al mith l and whom he saw through a disclosure attended metaphysically in his heart. In this addressing he speaks about the spiritual hierarchy and the origin of spiritual and physical creation.
- 2 The Second Part is a list of the five hundred and sixty chapters which constitute the Fut t.
- 3 The Third Part is an introduction to the book in which he explains the sources of knowledge and the difference between its three types: the intellectual science, the science of states, and the science of secrets, which he shows that it is highest and all encompassing science which actually includes all other sciences.
- 4 The Fourth Part starts with the first chapter of the Fut t in which Ibn al-rab explains the occasion that led him to this initiative and how he received the knowledge that he is going to broadcast in the book from a spirit he met while circumambulation around the Kaaba.
- 5 The Fifth Part is devoted almost entirely to explaining the ambiguous characters at the beginning of some chapters of Qur n and particularly AL M lif l m m m of s rat al Baqarah.
- 6 In the Sixth Part he talks about the properties of the characters one by one.
- 7 The Seventh Part is devoted to explaining the different terms he had used in this weird science of characters.

Ibn-al-'Arabī, Interpreting Ibn 'Arabī Arjun Nair, 2025-12-29. Interpreting Ibn Arab Philosophy: Theology and Exegesis in Later Islam offers a comprehensive and critical examination of one of Islam's most enigmatic and influential thinkers. Through close engagement with major controversies surrounding Ibn Arab's ideas from the doctrine of the Oneness of Being to his vision of sainthood and Quranic interpretation, this volume traces the rich and contested legacy of his thought across the Islamic intellectual tradition. Addressing the most debated aspects of Ibn Arab's teachings, this book surveys the major contests around the fixed entities: Divine Power, human freedom, and the nature of the Perfect Man. It delves into accusations of pantheism and theological transgression and explores the strategies employed by the Shaykh al-Akbar's followers to clarify, defend, or reinterpret his views. It also explores Ibn Arab's provocative Quranic hermeneutics, which includes perspectives on mercy, the problem of idolatry, and the fate of unbelievers, situating the Shaykh's teachings within broader Sufi philosophical and theological currents. Finally, it reveals how Ibn Arab challenged dominant rationalist frameworks and expanded the boundaries of Islamic knowledge by restoring to imagination a central epistemological role. This book is an essential resource for scholars of Islamic philosophy, theology, Sufism, Quranic studies, and the intellectual history of the Muslim world, shedding new light on the interpretive debates that have shaped Ibn Arab's enduring legacy.

The Meccan Revelations Muḥyī al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Alī Ibn al-'Arabī, 2004. Sufi Evolutionism Michel Hoebink, 2025-12-08. The Sudanese Muslim reformer Mahmud Muhammad Taha (d. 1985) is known for his bold proposals for Islamic legal reform. The mystical theology underlying this reform, however, has been largely overlooked. This book analyzes Taha's Sufi-inspired modernist reform theology in its premodern and modern intellectual contexts. It argues that his unique reliance on premodern Sufi thought allows him to go beyond his contemporaries in bringing Islam into the modern age, in particular with his Islamic theory of evolution and his views on democratic governance and the rights of women and non-Muslims. Taha's theology can be viewed as a Sufi reply to both western secular thought and to the Salafi interpretations of Islam that have gained worldwide ascendancy in the past decades. Ibn 'Arabī's Religious Pluralism Faris Abdel-hadi, 2024-12-20. This book marks a significant contribution to the debate around Ibn Arab's religious pluralism, focusing on his multifaceted approach to non-Abrahamic religions. For nearly eight hundred years, the writings and ideas of the great Spanish Sufi master Ibn Arab have shaped Islamic intellectual and spiritual culture from North and West Africa and France on the one hand to Iran, the Levant, Central Asia, and the Far East on the other. Modern scholarship on the Greatest Master is consequently at an all-time high. This book weighs in on a well-known aspect of his religious worldview, namely his perspective on religious pluralism, but does so from an entirely different angle. Offering a very close reading of his major works newly translated by the author and paying particular attention to a highly developed celestial metaphor prompted by his encounter with a group of pagan sun worshippers the book offers new insights into the nature and scope of Ibn Arabi's understanding of Islamic inclusivism Ultimately the book contributes to our understanding of both interfaith dialogue and the history of world religions through the prism of Ibn Arabi's work The book will be of particular interest to students and scholars working in a range of fields including Islamic philosophy Sufism and intellectual history

The Single Monad Model of the Cosmos Mohamed Haj Yousef, 2014-06-27 Ibn Arabi is the only scholar who was able to formulate a unique cosmological model that is capable of explaining our observations as well as many phenomena in physics and cosmology and even solve some perplexing modern and historical riddles in science and philosophy such as the EPR paradox and Zeno paradoxes of motion Moreover the Single Monad Model explains for the first time in history the importance of the week as a basic unit of space and time together This prodigious theory is based on the notion of the intertwining days where Ibn Arabi shows that at every instance of time there is indeed one full week of creation that takes place in the globe Since its publication in 2008 this book has triggered an overwhelming response and I hope this expanded edition will help promote further Ibn Arabi's wisdom that is still buried in his multitudes of books and treatises Ibn Arabi is one of the most prominent figures in Islamic history especially in relation to Sufism and Islamic philosophy and theology In this book we want to explore his cosmology and in particular his view of time in that cosmological context comparing his approaches to the relevant conclusions and principles of modern physics whenever possible We shall see that Ibn Arabi had a unique and comprehensive view of time which has never been discussed by any other philosopher or scientist before or even after Ibn Arabi In the final two chapters we shall discuss some of the ways his novel view of time and cosmology may be used to build a complete model of the cosmos that may deepen and extend our understanding of the world while potentially solving some of the drawbacks and paradoxes in the current cosmological models of modern physics As we discuss in the opening chapter there is no doubt that time is one of the most important issues in physics cosmology philosophy and theology and hundreds of books and articles have been published in these fields However none of these studies have fully developed Ibn Arabi's unique view of time in its cosmological dimensions although his conception of time is indeed central to understanding for example his controversial theory of the oneness of being One possible reason for this relative neglect is the difficult symbolic language he usually used Also he didn't discuss this subject at length in any single place in his extant works not even in chapters 59 291 and 390 of the Futuhat whose titles relate directly to time so we must piece together his overall cosmological understanding of time from his scattered treatments in many works and different contexts within his magnum opus the Futuhat and other books Therefore this book may be considered the first comprehensive attempt to set forth all the relevant dimensions of time in Ibn Arabi's wider cosmology and cosmogony To start with Ibn Arabi considers time to be a product of our human imagination without any real separately existing entity Nevertheless he still considers it to be one of the four main constituents of existence We need this imagined conception of time to chronologically arrange events and what for us are the practically defining motions of the celestial orbs and other physical objects but for Ibn Arab real existence is attributable only to the actually existing thing that moves not to motion nor to time nor space in which this motion is observed Thus Ibn Arab distinguishes between two kinds of time natural and para natural and he explains that they both originate from the two forces of the soul the active force and the intellective force respectively Then he explains that this imaginary time is cyclical circular relative discrete and inhomogeneous Ibn Arab also gives a precise definition drawing on the specific usage of the Qur an and earlier Arab conceptions of time of the day daytime and night showing how these definitions are related to the relative motions of the celestial orbs including the earth where every orb has its own day and those days are normally measured by our normal observable day that we count on the earth The Meccan Revelations Ibn al-‘Arabī,2004
