Paul Frazier

The Manchurian Candidate Book:

The Manchurian Candidate Richard Condon, 1988 Everybody knows the controversial 1962 film of The Manchurian Candidate starring Frank Sinatra and Angela Lansbury even though it was taken out of circulation for twenty five years after JFK's assassination Equally controversial on publication and just as timely today is Richard Condon's original novel First published in 1959 at the height of cold war paranoia The Manchurian Candidate is a terrifying and suspenseful political thriller featuring Sergeant Raymond Shaw ex prisoner of war Medal of Honor winner American hero and brainwashed assassin Condon's expert manipulation of the book's multiple themes from anticommunist hysteria to megalomaniacal motherhood makes this one of the most entertaining and enduring books of the era BOOK JACKET The Manchurian Candidate Greil Marcus, 2020-05-14 It may be the most sophisticated political thriller ever made in Hollywood film critic Pauline Kael wrote of John Frankenheimer's terrifying 1962 political thriller about an American serviceman brainwashed in Korea and made into an assassin Sophisticated to be sure it's also a headlong fall through the looking glass of American politics and the most deeply prophetic film of the second half of the American century As Greil Marcus reconstructs the drama The Manchurian Candidate is a movie in which the director and actors including Laurence Harvey Frank Sinatra and Angela Lansbury in an Academy Award nominated performance were suddenly capable of anything beyond any expectations This edition includes a new foreword highlighting the movie's terrifying contemporary relevance in the age of Trump and Russian interference in the US Presidential election The Manchurian Candidate John Lahr, 1993 The Manchurian Candidate (1962) - DVD. , The Manchurian Candidate George Axelrod, 199? The Manchurian Candidate George Axelrod, 2004 The Search for the "Manchurian Candidate" John Marks, 1978 Here is the extraordinary story of how the Central Intelligence Agency waged a careful and systematic assault on the human psyche John Marks reveals what was perhaps the most sinister activity ever engaged in by an organ of the United States government He describes how the government conducted a series of secret programs to find ways to control human behavior More than a spy story John Marks has both documented a major portion of the concealed history of our time and spelled out the tragic costs of secrecy and lack of accountability to the democratic system The Manchurian Candidate Stephen Badsey, 1998 The Manchurian Candidate, by R. Condon (2 Cassettes/1 Book). Richard Condon, Robert* Vaughan, The Search for the "Manchurian Candidate" John D. Marks, 1988 The Manchurian Candidate, Etc Richard Thomas CONDON, 1962 The Manchurian Candidate Random House, 2001-11-01 New York Magazine , 1979-05-07 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea What Have They Built You to Do? Matthew Frye

Jacobson, Gaspar González, Considered by many to be the best political thriller ever made The Manchurian Candidate is as entertaining troubling and relevant today as it was in 1962 Starring Frank Sinatra Laurence Harvey and Angela Lansbury and directed with probing insight by John Frankenheimer the film was widely acclaimed as a masterpiece Largely out of circulation for the next two decades it acquired a well deserved cult following until it was rereleased during the last year of the Reagan presidency when its pointed satire of political and media manipulation seemed more timely than ever In What Have They Built You to Do a key line of dialogue from the original film Matthew Frye Jacobson and Gaspar González undertake an ambitious reexamination of The Manchurian Candidate the 1959 novel by Richard Condon on which it was based and critically analyzed here for the first time the 2004 remake directed by Jonathan Demme Based on close readings of the film and broad investigations into the eras in which it was made and rediscovered the authors decode the many layers of meaning within and surrounding the film from the contradictions of the Cold War it both embodies and parodies

McCarthyism and Kennedy liberalism individualism and conformity to its construction of Asian villains overbearing women and male heroes in a society anxious about race gender and sexuality Through their multifaceted analysis of The Manchurian Candidate in all its incarnations Jacobson and González raise provocative questions about power and anxiety in American politics and society from the Cold War to today Matthew Frye Jacobson teaches American studies at Yale University His books include Roots Too White Ethnic Revival in Post Civil Rights America Gaspar González is an independent scholar and journalist in Miami He has taught American studies at Yale University and film studies at the University of Miami

The Manchurian Candidate, 2004 The Search for the "Manchurian Candidate" John D. Marks, 1979-01-01 The Wizards Of Langley Jeffrey T. Richelson, 2008-11-10 In this the first full length study of the Directorate of Science and Technology Jeffrey T. Richelson walks us down the corridors of CIA headquarters in Langley Virginia and through the four decades of science scientists and managers that produced the CIA we have today He tells a story of amazing technological innovation in service of intelligence gathering of bitter bureaucratic infighting and sometimes as in the case of its mind control adventure of stunning moral failure Based on original interviews and extensive archival research The Wizards of Langley turns a piercing lamp on many of the agency's activities many never before made public The Oldest Concession and the Manchurian Candidate Richard Condon, 1958 The Manchurian Candidate, Directed by Jonathan Demme, 2004

The Cold War on Film Paul Frazier, 2021-07-12 The Cold War on Film illustrates how to use film as a teaching tool It stands on its own as an account of both the war and the major films that have depicted it Memories of the Cold War have often been shaped by the popular films that depict it for example The Manchurian Candidate The Hunt for Red October and Charlie Wilson's War among others The Cold War on Film examines how the Cold War has been portrayed through a selection of 10 iconic films that represent it through dramatization and storytelling as opposed to through documentary footage The book includes an introduction to the war's history and a timeline of events Each of the 10 chapters that follow focuses on a specific Cold War film Chapters offer a uniquely detailed level of historical context for the films weighing their depiction of events against the historical record and evaluating how well or how poorly those films reflected the truth and shaped public memory and discourse over the war A comprehensive annotated bibliography of print and electronic sources aids students and teachers in further research
