

A top-down view of a wooden table covered with various Halloween-themed items. In the upper right, there's a white mask with large black eye sockets and a red, bloody mouth. To its left is a small orange pumpkin. In the lower left, another white mask with large black eye sockets and dark lips is visible. Scattered around are several small orange and yellow candles, a palette of colorful face paints, and some makeup brushes. A small box with the word 'HALLOWEEN' is also present. The background is dark and textured, possibly with fake spider webs.

Free Speech and Campus Civility Jeffrey L. Buller,Robert E. Cipriano,2021-06-01 Many colleges and universities are struggling to strike a balance between protecting free speech as a way of supporting their goal of academic freedom and promoting civility as a way of creating an environment where students can learn and faculty members can teach and conduct research There have been numerous recent incidents of audiences shouting down speakers burning books and demanding that specific students be expelled or faculty members be terminated In this highly fractious environment schools are wondering What works when seeking to attain the twin goals of permitting unrestricted speech but insisting on rules of decorum for debate and the exchange of perspectives This book explores what schools have actually attempted in some cases successfully and in some cases not successfully to address these issues It concludes that there are three primary strategies that tend to be effective treating challenges to free speech and campus civility as teachable moments exploring hypothetical scenarios with students faculty members and administrators before there is a serious incident and approaching free speech and campus civility across the curriculum The book also surveys United States case law on the topics of free speech academic freedom the right to protest and similar subjects so as to provide faculty members and administrators with a concise resource filled with practical and accurate information
