Re-enchanting the World Silvia Federici, 2018-11-01 Silvia Federici is one of the most important contemporary theorists of capitalism and feminist movements In this collection of her work spanning over twenty years she provides a detailed history and critique of the politics of the commons from a feminist perspective In her clear and combative voice Federici provides readers with an analysis of some of the key issues and debates in contemporary thinking on this subject Drawing on rich historical research she maps the connections between the previous forms of enclosure that occurred with the birth of capitalism and the destruction of the commons and the new enclosures at the heart of the present phase of global capitalist accumulation Considering the commons from a feminist perspective this collection centers on women and reproductive work as crucial to both our economic survival and the construction of a world free from the hierarchies and divisions capital has planted in the body of the world proletariat Federici is clear that the commons should not be understood as happy islands in a sea of exploitative relations but rather autonomous spaces from which to challenge the existing capitalist organization of life and labor

Unfree Labour? Aziz Choudry, Adrian A. Smith, 2016-08-15 Over the past decade Canada has experienced considerable growth in labour migration Moreover temporary labour migration has replaced permanent immigration as the primary means by which people enter Canada Utilizing the rhetoric of maintaining competitiveness Canadian employers and the state have ushered in an era of neoliberal migration alongside an agenda of austerity flowing from capitalist crisis Labour markets have been restructured to render labour more flexible and precarious and in Canada as in other high income capitalist labour markets employers are relying on migrant and immigrant workers as unfree labour This book explores labour migration to Canada and how public policies of temporary and guest worker programs function in the global context of work and capitalist restructuring Contributors are directly engaged with the issues emerging from the influx of temporary foreign workers and Canada's creeping economic apartheid the ongoing racialization of economic inequality for many workers of colour The collection also examines how migrant and immigrant workers have organized for justice and dignity in Canada As opposed to a good deal of current writing that often ignores the working conditions and struggles of racialized migrant and immigrant workers the authors contend that migrant workers labour organizations and migrant worker allies have engaged in a wide range of organizing initiatives with significant political and economic impacts These have included both court challenges to secure legal rights to unionization and grassroots alternatives to traditional forms of unionization through workers centres Contributors include Aziz Choudry Adrian A Smith Sedef Arat Ko Abigail B Bakan Joey Calugay Jennifer Jihye Chun Jill Hanley Jah Hon Koo Mostafa Henaway Deena Ladd Marco Luciano Lo c Malhaire Adriana Paz Ramirez Geraldina Polanco Chris Ramsaroop Eric Shragge Sonia Singh Christopher C Sorio and Mark Thomas

In Letters of Blood and Fire George Caffentzis, 2013-04-01 Karl Marx remarked that the only way to write about the origins of capitalism is in the letters of blood and fire used to drive workers from the common lands forests and waters in the sixteenth century In this collection of essays George Caffentzis argues that the same is true for the annals of twenty first century capitalism Information technology immaterial production financialization and globalization have been trumpeted as inaugurating a new phase of capitalism that puts it beyond its violent origins Instead of being a period of major social and economic novelty however the course of recent decades has been a return to the fire and blood of struggles at the advent of capitalism Emphasizing class struggles that have proliferated across the social body of global capitalism Caffentzis shows how a wide range of conflicts and antagonisms in the labor capital relation express themselves within and against the work process These struggles are so central to the dynamic of the system that even the most sophisticated machines cannot liberate capitalism from class struggle and the need for labor Themes of war and crisis permeate the text and are given singular emphasis documenting the peculiar way in which capital perpetuates violence and proliferates misery on a world scale This collection draws upon a careful rereading of Marx s thought in order to elucidate political concerns of the day Originally written to contribute to the debates of the anticapitalist movement over the last thirty years this book makes Caffentzis s writings readily available as tools for the struggle in this period of transition to a common future

Social Movements and the Politics of Debt Christoph Sorg, 2025-10-01 It would have been hard to miss the pivotal role debt has played for contentious politics in the last decades The North Atlantic Financial Crisis Global Recession and European Debt Crisis as well as the recent waves of protest that followed them have catapulted debt politics into the limelight of public debates Profiting from years of fieldwork and an extensive amount of empirical data Christoph Sorg traces recent contestations of debt from North Africa to Europe and the US In doing so he identifies the emergence of new transnational movement networks against the injustice of current debt politics which struggle for more social and democratic ways of organizing debt within and between societies
