

I'm an Extended Response Expert!

I follow these steps to write the BEST extended responses...

On paper or using a computer...

I RESTATE the question in my own words.

I write a TOPIC SENTENCE that answers the question.

I CITE at least 3 EXAMPLES FROM THE TEXT that PROVIDE STRONG EVIDENCE for my answer.

I write COMMENTARY (my own thoughts, feelings, and opinions) after each EXAMPLE that supports each EXAMPLE.

I RESTATE the question in my own words giving any concluding ideas, thoughts, or feelings about the question.

The Variation in Teachers' Responses to Reading, Writing, and Mathematics Reforms Scott Geoffrey Grant,1994

The Effects of the Washington State Education Reform on Schools and Classrooms ,2000 Researchers from RAND are studying the implementation and impact of the Washington reform on school and classroom practices focusing on the subjects of writing and mathematics This briefing presents findings from the first round of surveys administered to teachers and principals in the spring of 1999 At this time elementary schools had already administered the Washington Assessment of Student Learning WASL for two years voluntary in 1996 97 and mandatory in 1997 98 and middle schools had administered the test for one year voluntary in 1997 98 Thus the results describe principals and teachers early responses to the state education reform The findings are based on principal and teacher self reports about actions taken in their districts schools and classrooms as well as their opinions about the reform

Teaching/writing in the Late Age of Print Jeffrey R. Galin,Carol Peterson Haviland,J. Paul Johnson,2003

Although several anthologies have collected articles on issues confronting composition studies no other text looks at student writing as does Teaching Writing in the Late Age of Print No other volume has asked compositionists to use student writing to reflect on their teaching practices No other volume has provided the rich breadth of response that reflects the current state of composition in the United States And no other volume has defined its primary task as portraying the diversity of the field through teaching practices as represented in student writing Most important of all no other volume has provided all course materials and supplemental documentation online as an integral part of such a project There is a keyword reference table that allows readers to read chapters based on key terms in the field like collaboration Each chapter begins with an abstract for easy reference The companion website for this book includes a searchable database of all the chapter abstracts assignments excerpts from all contributions extended course materials that help contextualize the printed chapters and an online forum for teachers and researchers to meet and discuss their research interests

The American Shorthand Teacher ,1930

Teaching Content Reading and Writing Martha Rapp Ruddell,1993

Reading, Thinking, and Writing

National Assessment of Educational Progress (Project),1981 The results of the 1979 80 reading and literature assessment conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP are contained in this report In addition to the national results the report describes the performance of 9 13 and 17 year old students in various cohorts defined by geographic region sex race ethnicity parental education and size and type of community The primary focus of the report is upon the written responses of students to works of literature when they were asked to analyze them defend their initial reactions to the works evaluate works or simply respond to them in any way they deemed appropriate In addition the report provides information about the students reading habits and attitudes as well as their knowledge of literary works characters and conventions The findings presented in the report indicate 1 that most students lacked systematic strategies for examining what they read in order to understand it fully and 2 that although students could make sound initial responses to works they did not appear to know how to support or explain their responses in any but the most superficial ways The report discusses the implications of the findings and suggests that school administrators and teachers take a variety of steps to address the problems raised by them Primary type of information provided by report Results Selective Change FL The Journey of a Reader Lesley D. Thompson,1998 Professional Testing Practices for Educators ,2001 Developing and Using Classroom Assessments Albert Oosterhof,1999 A short inexpensive nuts and bolts text on how to write construct and use assessments in the classroom Can be used as supplement in an ed psych or methods course where assessment is given more than cursory treatment Peer-response Groups in a College Writing Workshop Mary Francine Danis,1980 Teaching Elements of Written Composition Through Use of Classical Music and Art Janet Gayle Black,1995 Munson Phonographic News and Teacher ,1889 Teaching Students in Inclusive Settings Judy W. Wood,2006 For courses in Inclusion and Mainstreaming From the first author to address strategies for special needs populations served in general classrooms comes the fifth edition for teaching all children This text now includes detailed but practical information regarding special populations including gifted culturally or linguistically diverse students and students from a culture of poverty A research based problem solving model and intervention checklist provides a unique method for selecting appropriate interventions for those students The text provides interventions for the learning environment teaching environment and for assessment evaluation and grading The accommodations are developed for educational planning in standard based educational systems This is a unique text for today s direction of instructional planning and evaluation
