'Are we a nation of gun nuts or are we just nuts?'
Michael Moore

'Michael Moore's controversial documentary about gun control in America is at once horrifying and hilarious. He asks big, probing questions about the world's sole superpower, questions that are seldom raised on so public a stage.'
Daily Telegraph

'Investigative filmmaker Michael Moore's heartfelt documentary – as entertaining as it is politically damning – looks deep into America's love affair with guns. A brave and important piece of filmmaking that dares to ask questions that many people would prefer remained unanswered. This isn't just about guns. It's about the psychology of a nation whose every move has global implications.'
Empire Magazine

'Bowling for Columbine ... is extremely serious without being solemn, passionate in a deliberately laid-back fashion ... Moore is a radical journalist in the American movie-making tradition whose weapons are satire, send-up and confrontation.'
The Observer

'This is a big, brawling mix of ideas and interviews, with wacky clips, spoofs and pastiches, some devastatingly funny and pertinent, some of them pretty lame.'
The Guardian

Bowling for Columbine is a 2002 American documentary film written, directed, produced by, and starring Michael Moore. It brought Moore international attention as a rising filmmaker and won numerous awards, including the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature, the Independent Spirit Award for Best Documentary Feature, and the César Award for Best Foreign Film.<sup>12</sup>

The film explores what Moore suggests are the causes for the Columbine High School massacre and other acts of violence with guns. Moore focuses on the background and environment in which the massacre took place and some common public opinions and assumptions about related issues. The film looks into the nature of violence in the United States.

In Moore's discussions with various people – including South Park co-creator Matt Stone, the National Rifle Association's then-president Charlton Heston, and musician Marilyn Manson – he seeks to explain why the Columbine massacre occurred and why the United States has a high violent crime rate (especially crimes involving guns).

Learning to Teach Natalie G. Adams, Christine Mary Shea, Delores D. Liston, Bryan Deever, 2006-08-15 The second edition of this popular student textbook presents an up to date and comprehensive introduction to the process and practice of teaching and learning science. It takes into account changes in science education and teacher education since the first edition was published. This new edition has been extensively revised with emphasis on recent National Curriculum assessment and curriculum changes in England and Wales. Five new sections which map key ideas in biology, chemistry, physics and astronomy, the Earth sciences and the nature of science address the demands made on science.

Citizen Moore Roger Rapoport, 2007 Investigative reporter Roger Rapoport interviewed over 200 people who played key roles in Michael Moore's life from the nuns at his boyhood Catholic school to Ralph Nader and other employers not to mention a seven foot chicken. For the first time this definitive biography traces the untold story of the 30 years of struggles and failures that led to the overnight success of this quintessential late bloomer.

Learning Languages Through Technology Elizabeth Hanson-Smith, Sarah Rilling, 2006 While posing important questions about how learning proceeds with new technologies this volume demonstrates how teachers captivate the imagination of learners from school children to postgraduates by providing real world purposes for language. The authors are from educational institutions in many regions of the world and describe technology use from the lowest levels such as word processing and scanning to high end multimedia and interactive communications through voice and video on the Internet. Technology is perhaps the best means to creating an environment conducive to language learning. Technology can support teachers in making language learning faster, easier, less painful and more engaging and helps create an optimal language learning environment. Learning Languages through Technology reflects the many and varied ways teachers are currently using computers and the Internet and provides a rich resource for both novice and expert educator. The volume is divided into four sections: Language Development, Online Skill Building through Technology, Content Based and Task Based Learning, Collaborative CALL, Authentic Audience in a Web Based World.

Constructivism in Professional Development Features throughout the volume are helpful to pre and in service teachers. Each chapter opens with a preview of ideas to ponder before reading and each of the four sections begins with a preview of the chapters and concludes with a thought provoking issue in technology and pedagogy. Follow up questions for class discussion, further research and activities appear at the end of each section leading readers further into the discussion of the role technology plays in learning both currently and in the future. Appendices list the tools, software and Web sites helpful in using technology with learners.
