The Making and Breaking of Minds: How social interactions shape the human mind Isabella Sarto-Jackson,2022-04-05

The human brain has a truly remarkable capacity It reorganizes itself flexibly adjusting to fluctuating environmental conditions a process called neuroplasticity Neuroplasticity provides the basis for wide ranging learning and memory processes that are particularly profuse during childhood and adolescence At the same time the exceptional malleability of the developing brain leaves it highly vulnerable to negative impact from the surroundings Abusive or neglecting social environments as well as socioeconomic deprivation and poverty cause toxic stress and complex traumas that can severely compromise cognitive development emotional processing self perception and executive brain functions The neurophysiological changes entailed impair emotional regulation lead to heightened anxiety and afflict attachment and the formation of social bonds Neuroplastic changes following severely adverse experiences are not something that a person grows out of and gets over These experiences alter the neurobiological and biochemical makeup and cause people to live in an emotionally relabeled world in which the evaluation of any social cue their behavior cognition and state of mind are biased towards the negative Even more worrying detrimental neurophysiological consequences are not limited to the traumatized individual but are often transmitted to subsequent generations through a process of social niche construction thereby creating a vicious cycle Thus the making and breaking forces of the brain are epitomized by parents alloparents peers and our socioeconomic niche This book expounds on the formative role that the social environment plays in healthy brain development especially during infancy childhood and adolescence Based on scientific findings the book advocates for bold measures and responsible stewardship to combat child abuse maltreatment and child poverty By bringing together insights from neuroscience evolutionary biology and social education work it lays out a fact based transdisciplinary endeavor that aims at rising to the societal challenge of providing a rewarding perspective to youth at risk It will be a valuable resource for academics from social education pedagogy cognitive science neuroscience as well as professionals in the fields of social work pedagogy education child welfare

The Accidental Mind David J. Linden, 2012-11 Linden sets the record straight about the construction of the human brain rather than the beautifully engineered optimized device the absolute pinnacle of design portrayed in many dumbed down text books pop science tomes and education televisions programs Linden's organ is a complicated assembly of cobbled together functionality that created the mind as a by product of ad hoc solutions to questions of survival His guided tour of the glorious amalgam of crummy parts includes pit stops in the histories and fundamentals of neurology neural psychology physiology molecular and cellular biology and genetics

The Developing Mind, Second Edition Daniel J. Siegel, 2012-02-21 This bestselling book put the field of interpersonal neurobiology on the map for over 100 000 readers Daniel J Siegel goes beyond the nature and nurture divisions that traditionally have constrained much of our thinking about development exploring the role of interpersonal relationships in forging key connections in the brain He presents a groundbreaking new way of thinking about the emergence of the human mind and the process by which each of us becomes a feeling thinking remembering individual Illuminating how and why neurobiology matters this book is essential reading for clinicians educators researchers and students interested in promoting healthy development and resilience Professors praise the book's utility in courses from developmental psychology and child development to neuroscience and counseling New to This Edition Incorporates significant scientific and technical advances Expanded discussions of cutting edge topics including neuroplasticity epigenetics mindfulness and the neural correlates of consciousness Useful pedagogical features pull outs diagrams and a glossary Epilogue on domains of integration specific pathways to well being and
