The Archaeology of Seafaring in Ancient South Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray,2003-08-14 Prior to European expansion communities of the Indian subcontinent had a strong maritime orientation In this new archaeological study Himanshu Prabha Ray explores seafaring activity religious travel and political economy in this ancient period By using archaeological data from the Red Sea to the Indonesian archipelago she reveals how the early history of peninsular South Asia is interconnected with that of its Asian and Mediterranean partners in the Indian Ocean Region The book departs from traditional studies focusing on the communities maritime history rather than agrarian expansion and the emergence of the state Rather than being a prime mover in social economic and religious change the state is viewed as just one participant in a complex interplay of social actors including merchants guilds boat builders sailors pilgrims religious clergy and craft producers A study that will be welcomed by students of Archaeology and Ancient History particularly those interested in South Asian Studies

Between the Empires Patrick Olivelle,2006-07-13 This volume is the result of an international conference organized by the South Asia Institute at the University of Texas Patrick Olivelle has collected and edited the best papers to emerge from the conference Part I of the book looks at what can be construed from archeological evidence Part II concerns itself with the textual evidence for the period Taken together these essays offer an unprecedented look at Indian culture and society in this distant epoch Archaeology as History in Early South Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray,Carla M. Sinopoli,2004 Contributed articles presented at a workshop Religion and Public Culture Keith E. Yandell Keith E. Yandell,John J. Paul,2013-11-19 The last two centuries have witnessed profound changes in the nature of public consciousness Nowhere has this been more true than in India especially in relation to changing cultures of public life and religious tradition in South India Essays in this collection attempt to explore the intricacies of what is perhaps the single most complex socio religious environment in the world The essays consider the evolution of the notion of Hinduism as a distinct and singular separate religion the relationship between this kind of formulation and various European or western influences in India and differences which the formation of this idea and its acceptance have made upon wider public consciousness Each essay also considers certain general issues such as the passing along of religious authority from one generation to the next and the rise of disputes over matters both ideological or doctrinal and institutional disputes that are fundamental to the traditions concerned and yet have unmistakable cross cultural references Coastal Shrines and Transnational Maritime Networks across India and Southeast Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray,2020-07-26 This book breaks new ground by examining trans oceanic connectivity through the perspective of coastal shrines and maritime cultural landscapes across the Bay of Bengal and the South China Sea It covers a period of expanding networks and cross cultural encounters from the 3rd century BCE to the 13th century CE The book examines the distinctiveness of these shrines and highlights their interconnections and their role in social integration in South and Southeast Asia By drawing on data from shipwreck sites the author elaborates on the material and religious intersections and transmissions between cultures across the seas Many of these coastal shrines survived into the colonial period when they came to be admired for their aesthetic value as monuments As nation states of the region became independent these shrines were often inscribed on UNESCO s World Heritage List on account of their Outstanding Universal Values The book argues that in the 21st century there is a need to promote the cultural connectivity of the past as transnational heritage on UNESCO s global platform to preserve and protect our shared heritage The volume will be essential reading for academics and researchers of archaeology anthropology museum and heritage studies history of South and Southeast Asia religious studies cultural studies and Asian studies
