Understanding Conflict and Change in a Multicultural World H. Roy Kaplan, 2014 Learning about the history of cultural conflict helps teachers reduce it in classrooms This book shows our common origins and reviews sources of conflict in the former Yugoslavia Northern Ireland and the Middle East It reveals how prejudice and stereotypes about racial and religious minorities create problems in our schools Beginning with the human exodus out of Africa 60 000 years ago tension arose among ethnic groups separated by geographic barriers Changes in population immigration work and the role of religion are creating clashes in society and schools Students from different cultural backgrounds are being thrown together as mass transportation and telecommunications shrink our world Inclusive classrooms with respectful learning environments can be achieved when we identify the sources of tension that separate and divide us Students are more alike than different Knowing about our common origin and challenges will help teachers become more effective

Teaching in a Globally-Connected World Ervin F. Sparapani, Pamela L. Ross McClain, 2016-07-29 This book examines the current social political economic and religious climate of the world makes projections for the future and then makes suggestions for what the contributors believe educators need to think about in order to adequately prepare young people to successfully navigate that future We live in a globally connected world and young people as they move into the future need to be prepared to live in that future Schools and teachers tend to focus on the present which is okay however schools and teachers must decide what is important to know in the present in order for young people to be successful in the future The responsibility of education today must be to prepare learners to live in an unknown future that is global and not be so focused on an uncertain present
