Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson, 2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then you've already mini meal prepped Generally though meal prepping refers to preparing 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like keeping your lunches for the week all at once instead of keeping your lunch for the week You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping isn't a waste and it's not outside your plan or budget When keeping your meal plan for the week you'll eat healthy meals without having to decide each day what to eat for the day Meal prepping isn't for everyone It is good for those who value convenience and efficiency more than variety With meal prepping you generally eat the same thing for a few days in a row so if you don't like leftovers or get bored with food meal prepping isn't for you If having nutritious food that's maximizing your time and budget is more valuable to you than something different every day meal prepping is a great idea I've generally never seen a meal prep for one person or maybe one other person do a whole meal Meal prep for a whole family would be quite difficult but if you're a family of four it would be a great idea If food is stored in the refrigerator it's a slow process In addition to the way food packed in the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the food's texture and flavor Always begin with the FDA's guidelines but then follow your own preferences In general I don't like to eat more than five days worth of food but I find that's a good idea for food that's not too far from the refrigerator
