

The background of the book cover is a painting. It depicts a coastal town with a large, light-colored archway in the foreground. The town is built on a hillside, with many small houses and buildings. In the background, there is a body of water and a distant shoreline. The overall style is soft and painterly, with a warm, slightly hazy atmosphere. The colors are muted, with a lot of greens, blues, and earthy tones.

Americans Remember Their Civil War Barbara A. Gannon, 2017-07-07 This book provides readers with an overview of how Americans have commemorated and remembered the Civil War Most Americans are aware of statues or other outdoor art dedicated to the memory of the Civil War Indeed the erection of Civil War monuments permanently changed the landscape of U S public parks and cemeteries by the turn of the century But monuments are only one way that the Civil War is memorialized This book describes the different ways in which Americans have publicly remembered their Civil War from the immediate postwar era to the early 21st century. Each chapter covers a specific historical period. Within each chapter, the author highlights important individuals, groups, and social factors helping readers to understand the process of memory. The author further notes the conflicting tensions between disparate groups as they sought to commemorate their war. A final chapter examines the present-day memory of the war and current debates and controversies.

Indentured and Post-Indentured Experiences of Women in the Indian Diaspora Amba Pande, 2020-01-03. This book describes the processes of migration and settlement of indentured Indian women and tries to map their struggles, challenges, and agencies. It highlights the fact that even though indentured women faced various kinds of violence and abuse owing to the authoritarian and patriarchal setup of the plantations, over a period of time they managed to turn the adverse circumstances to their advantage. They struggled to emerge as productive workforces and empowered themselves through acquiring education and skill and negotiating new spaces and identities for themselves. At the same time, they also raised families in often inhospitable circumstances, passing on to their descendants a strong foundation to build successful lives for themselves. The book discusses indentured women from a multidisciplinary perspective and adopts multiple methodologies, including primary and secondary sources, personal narrations, pictorial representations, and theoretical discussions. It also provides an overview of the current discourses and the changing paradigms of the studies on Indian indentured women. Further, it presents a detailed region-wise description of indentured women migrants. The regions covered in this book are: Asia Pacific countries covered are Fiji, Burma, and Nepal; Africa countries covered are South Africa, Mauritius, and Reunion Island; and the Caribbean countries covered are Suriname, Trinidad, and Tobago. In addition, one full section of the book is devoted to the theoretical frameworks that touch upon gender performativity, normative misogyny, Bahadur's Coolie Women, literary representations, and resistance movements. It is intended for academics and researchers in the field of diaspora, migration, transnational studies, history, sociology, literature, women's gender studies, as well as policymakers and general readers interested in the personal experiences of women and migrants.
