Red, White, and True Tracy Crow, 2014-08-15 Even as we celebrate the return of our military from wars in the Middle East we are becoming increasingly aware of the struggles that await veterans on the home front Red White and True offers readers a collection of voices that reflect the experiences of those touched by war from the children of veterans who encounter them in their fathers recollections of past wars to the young men and women who fought in the deserts of Iraq and Afghanistan The diversity of perspectives collected in this volume validates the experiences of our veterans and their families describing their shared struggles and triumphs while honoring the fact that each person s military experience is different Leila Levinson s powerful essay recounts her father s experience freeing a POW camp during World War II Pulitzer Prize winning author Tracy Kidder provides a chilling account of being a new second lieutenant in Vietnam Army combat veteran Brooke King recounts the anguish of raising her young children by day while trying to distinguish between her horrific memories of IED explosions in Baghdad and terrifying dreams by night These individual stories of pain and struggle along with twenty nine others illustrate the inescapable damage that war rends in the fabric of society and celebrate our dauntless attempts to repair these holes with compassion and courage

On Point Tracy Crow,2015-09 Personal writing can be risky for anyone but for military veterans especially those suffering from post traumatic stress sharing stories can trigger painful and disturbing flashbacks Writing is also risky for the ego It is one thing to write a military story especially one based on authentic experiences it is quite another to muster the courage to share that story with others for critique and feedback Award winning journalist and author Tracy Crow presents a roadmap for writing an authentic persuasive military story Drawing from her personal experiences and those of other veteran writers and from the insights of noteworthy writing and teaching professionals On Point is the guide Crow wishes she d had when she first began writing about her military experience No previous writing guide specifically addresses the unique challenges and rewards facing soldiers who want to craft their military story with courage and candor

Rage Consequences of Choices is the second part of Rose s journey unto the LIGHT But many of us tend to point judgmental fingers at others who have made bad decisions helping us to hide from the ones we d made when the truth is we all have taken many different paths in this fallen world Some have worked out and others did not But in the end we can learn from those choices and move on Or we can stay and embrace the lies we have told to ourselves In other words we all have fallen short to the Glory of GOD as a result of these lies In Rose s case she fell in love with a man by way of feelings and emotions And like I said before a man she should have never fallen in love with Rose tried to change him and in the end she was the one that had changed This book reveals the consequences of her choices At the end of this particular journey of Rose she sits in her reality of the verdict of jail But all is not lost the third book brings us to the truth and that is TO GOD BE THE GLORY AMEN About the Author Lewis The Mask Poet Fishburne has always loved to sing and write But back in the day his first love was singing He was adopted at an early age of six months His name was Louis Jackson until his sixteenth birthday when he was told he would meet his real mother So he left and became streetwise which was a bad decision on his part But as time moved on he learned from past mistakes
