World Religions in America Professor of Religion Jacob Neusner, PhD, 1996-10 Who Stole My Spear? Tim Samuels, 2016-05-05 Of the 200 000 years homo sapiens has been wandering this planet this has to be the most absurd and challenging time to be a man How can you hunt and gather in an open plan office Is monogamy fighting a losing battle against testes size Why do men make up 95% of FTSE CEOs yet 95% of the prison population Trapped in bodies barely changed since caveman days males are now contending with corporate culture lifelong commitment rampant depression and crazy expectations to be a success at work and home Enter award winning BBC broadcaster and journalist Tim Samuels with Who Stole My Spear which stops at nothing to explore how men should actually be living these days From relationships religion and the rise of ISIS to porn fatherhood and the oppression of office life Nothing is taboo Is it less serious when a man has an affair Why don't new parents want boys Who Stole My Spear is an inspiring rallying call for men and good masculinity which cannot be ignored that will leave you rethinking much about life's big questions And for women who wonder what's on a man's mind this is the book that offers the entertainingly explosive answer

The Documentary History of Judaism and Its Recent Interpreters Jacob Neusner, 2012-07-10 The result for the history of Judaism of a documentary reading of the Rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis It is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds In the recent past Neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon At the same time Neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications Here Neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations Neusner begins with the article written by Professor William Scott Green for the Encyclopaedia Judaica second edition as Green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of Neusner's entire oeuvre Neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the Mishnah's and the Talmuds programs for the social order of Israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively Then come the two foci of discourse Halakhah or normative law and Aggadah or normative theology Professors Bernard Jackson of the University of Manchester England and Mayer Gruber of Ben Gurion University of the Negev treat the Halakhic program that Neusner has devised and Kevin Edgecomb of the University of California Berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system Neusner discerns in the Aggadic documents Neusner concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis

World Religions Vahan H. Tootikian,1992 The History of the Rise and Fall of the World's Religions and their Evolution Younus Samadzada,2022-01-14 This book chronologically documents the rise and fall of the major religions of the world and explores the role that various cultural factors such as dance trance music song and language have played in this evolution The role that leaders play in the evolution of religion is also discussed Starting from the primitive religions of hunter gatherer societies in which religion was not part of any institution the next stages of human life from the agricultural revolution to the modern religions of today are discussed Among the modern religions discussed are Judaism Buddhism Christianity Islam Scientology and numerous others The reader is further provided with a unique perspective on the potential good and evil aspects of religion and the very reality of the existence of a God or gods and the possible downfalls of the religious belief system Comparing Faithfully Michelle Voss,2016-09-01 Every generation of theologians must respond to its context by rearticulating the central tenets of the faith Interreligious comparison has been integral to this process from the start of the Christian tradition and is especially salient today The emerging field of comparative theology in which close study of another religious tradition yields new questions and categories for theological reflection in the scholar's home tradition embodies the ecumenical spirit of this moment This discipline has the potential to enrich systematic theology and by extension theological education at its foundations The essays in Comparing Faithfully demonstrate that engagement with religious diversity need not be an afterthought in the study of Christian systematic theology rather it can be a way into systematic theological thinking Each section invites students to test theological categories to consider Christian doctrine in relation to specific comparisons and to take up comparative study in their own contexts This resource for pastors and theology students reconsiders five central doctrines of the Christian faith in light of focused interreligious investigations The dialogical format of the book builds conversation about the doctrine of God theodicy humanity Christology and soteriology Its comparative essays span examples from Hindu Buddhist Jewish Muslim Jain and Confucian traditions as well as indigenous Aztec theology and contemporary spiritual but not religious thought to offer exciting new perspectives on Christian doctrine

Students and the World-wide Expansion of Christianity Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions. the World An Introduction provides an essential framework for analyzing and understanding the world's major religions. Rather than simply presenting a series of facts, this innovative textbook provides an insightful lens through which students examine how and why religions appeal to their followers. Contributions from leading scholars who have conducted fieldwork in the traditions they discuss focus on the contemporary beliefs and practices of Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity, Islam, Chinese Religion, and others. Each chapter contains detailed analysis, up-to-date scholarship review, and discussion questions, and multiple informational boxes that discuss topics in greater depth across five analytical categories. More than 150 carefully curated images, diagrams, and maps that enhance student comprehension and retention are integrated throughout. This edition features two entirely new chapters on the development of the study of religion and indigenous religions of the Americas, helping students appreciate the complex systems of belief that shape human experience.

Understanding the Religions of the World Provides a current and relevant perspective on religion across the globe. Analyzes how religions operate as systems for achieving human aspirations. Helps students strengthen critical thinking skills and cultural awareness. Draws on the latest research and academic insights in the area of Religious Studies. Covers traditions not typically addressed in introductory texts, such as indigenous religions of Africa and Oceania. Supplying the tools necessary for exploring global faith traditions.

Understanding the Religions of the World: An Introduction, Second Edition is an ideal textbook for undergraduate and elite high school honors courses on religious studies, anthropology, comparative religion, and theology.

Islam in America, 1994 Library Journal, 2001 Religion and History David Gary Shaw, 2006 The New Yorker Harold Wallace Ross, Katharine Sergeant Angell White, 1985-08 The Journal of Religion, 1923 Includes section Book reviews World Order, 1993 Wisconsin Lutheran Quarterly, 1988 Library Journal Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L. Pylodet, Charles Ammi Cutter, Bertine Emma Weston, Karl Brown, Helen E. Wessells, 2007. Includes beginning Sept 15, 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept-May a special section. School library journal ISSN 0000-0035 called Junior libraries 1954-May 1961. Also issued separately Building Blocks of Rabbinic Tradition Jacob Neusner, 2008. This book responds to a question that came to the author from Professor Maren Niehoff of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem: Have you written a simple introduction to your documentary theory and method which can serve as a starting point for my students? In this book are gathered eight of the more fundamental items of documentary theory and practice: three in theory, five in practice, for Professor Niehoff's students and anyone else who takes an interest in the formative history of Judaism. The documentary thesis of Rabbinic literature holds that the document, the Mishnah, Sifra, Lamentations, Rabbah, the Bavli, for example, forms the basic building block of the Rabbinic tradition. Excluded by that definition are sayings attributed to and stories told about named sages. These cannot serve in the reconstruction of the Rabbinic tradition: its literature, history, religion, and theology. Encyclopedia of Religion in America Charles H. Lippy, 2010-06. Explores the origins, development, influence, and interrelations of the many faiths practiced in North America.
