Keyword Relevance in Search Engine Optimization Tze Ping Khor, 2014-08-01 Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Computer Science Internet New Technologies grade 2.5 Open University Malaysia Faculty of Information Technology Multimedia Communication course Master of Information Technology language English abstract The world of search engines has long been dominated by Google and most internet marketers know that they need to get their websites listed on the first page on Google or risk being totally unseen by their online customers Almost everyone who is on the internet will search using a search engine for the information they want and rely almost completely on the information given on the first page of the search engine results page It can be unfortunate for a company which can offer the products its customers want but unfortunately it cannot be found on the first few pages of a search engine retrieved pages This has created a demand for search engine optimization companies which cater towards individuals and companies hoping to get their website listed on the first page of Google but not knowing how to The work of search engine optimization is also fraught with errors as search engines like Google keep changing their search algorithms in their quest to perfect their search ability and this means the rules for search engine optimization are always changing too As content may remain the same it is thus important to be able to find a way to measure the content of a website to determine its relevance for search engines to retrieve a desired webpage One way to measure the content is to determine the amount of important keywords which make up the content and thus the purpose of this research is to determine the relevance of keywords in today's demanding search technology such as those used by Google and Yahoo. This research also attempts to find out what are the other factors e.g. social media interest besides keywords which will help a website to rise to the top of a search engine results page. Search Engine Optimization Breakthrough Hany ANIS, 2018-12-28 Chapter 1 What Is Search Engine Optimization Search Engine Optimization SEO is used in all aspects of web marketing. You need to understand as much as you can about how SEO works in order to get the proper marketing of your website online. When you use SEO in all of your content both text and visual you can draw more traffic to your site. In order to understand how to use SEO you need to know why people use this type of marketing and rely on it so heavily in order to get the desired traffic to their website. SEO is what gets a website noticed in the search engines. So what exactly is SEO? This sets up your text, photos and videos so that they are easy to find when someone is searching for them using the various search engines online. While it is often said that Google relies more on SEO content than Yahoo which relies more on link building the truth of the matter is that in order for a website to be discovered online it must come up in the search engine. For example if you have a website that sells cooking appliances you will want to make sure that you structure your site so that others who may be looking for the products you sell will be able to find it online. Those who are looking online for what you have to sell may do it in a number of different ways although the easiest way for someone to find something online is to use the search engines. Most of the traffic to your website will come from search engine optimization. You need to know which keywords will work for your website. These are the words or phrases that people will put into the search engine bars to receive the search engine results pages. Many people today are putting in longer phrases into the search engines to narrow down their search. There are tools that the website owner can use to investigate the best keywords for their website based on what they sell and what words potential customers are likely to plug into the search bars that will lead them to the site. In order to succeed at this a website owner must not only know the concept of SEO but also much about the target market which is those who are most likely to purchase the products on the website. If you are just starting out your website or if you have a website up and running already you need to know how to use search engine optimization in all facets of your marketing. While there are other ways to market your website and products without using SEO the fact of the matter is that 60 percent of all traffic on websites comes from those who found the website in the search engines. These people are seeking out what you have to offer and are finding you online as long as you are accessible. Once your site is search engine optimized you can expect to get more traffic to your site from the search engines. People who may be interested in your site will find it easier if your website is search engine optimized. Most people use the search engines to find what. After the Fact Nathan Bomey, 2018 This trenchant analysis examines the many ways our society's increasingly tenuous commitment to facts laid the groundwork for Donald Trump's rise to power. Award winning journalist Nathan Bomey argues that Trump did not usher the post truth era into being. He was its inevitable outcome. Bomey points to recent trends that have created the perfect seedbed for spin distortion deception and bald faced lies shifting news habits the rise of social media the spread of entrenched ideologies and the failure of schools to teach basic critical thinking skills The evidence supporting the author s argument is all around us On Facebook we present images of our lives that ignore the truth and intentionally deceive our friends and family We consume fake news stories online and carelessly circulate false rumors In politics we vote for leaders who leverage political narratives that favor ideology over science And in our schools we fail to teach students how to authenticate information After the Fact explores how the convergence of technology politics and media has ushered in the misinformation age sidelining the truth and threatening our core principle of community
