Meeting, 2002    The Quest for Meaning Marcel Danesi, 2020 Dating back to antiquity semiotics is both a technique and a science that aims to understand the nature of meaning. An academic discipline in its own right semiotics uses signs such as words and symbols to think, communicate, reflect, transmit and preserve knowledge. Since the initial publication of The Quest for Meaning in 2007 the world has changed dramatically with the advent of online culture, new technologies and new ways of making signs and symbols. Updated to reflect these many changes the second edition includes a comprehensive chapter on the use of semiotics in the Internet age. Written in a student friendly style featuring examples from everyday life the book explains what semiotics is all about and why it is so important for gaining insights into our elusive and mysterious human nature    South Asian Journal of Socio-political Studies, 2005    Semiotic Evolution and the Dynamics of Culture Marcel Bax, Barend van Heusden, Wolfgang Wildgen, 2004 This book is about patterns of development in the history of culture. Bringing together three areas of research semiotics, cultural history and evolutionary psychology it attempts to bridge the gap that still separates the study of culture from the cognitive sciences. The multidisciplinary approach chosen by the contributors derives its impetus from the deep conviction that in order to understand the logic of cultural development one must take the building blocks of culture that is signs and language as a starting point for research. Central issues related to patterns of cultural evolution are dealt with in contributions on the development of mind and culture, the history of the media, the diversity of sign systems, culture and code and the dynamics of semiosis. Theoretically oriented contributions alternate with in depth case studies on such diverging topics as the evolution of language and art in prehistory, ritual as the fountainhead of indirect communication, developments in renaissance painting, the evolution of classification systems in chemistry changing attitudes toward animal consciousness and developments in computer technology
