The Company of Wolves James Gracey, 2017-08-01 Co written by Irish filmmaker Neil Jordan and British novelist Angela Carter and based on several short stories from Carter s collection The Bloody Chamber The Company of Wolves 1984 is a provocative reinvention of the fairy tale of Little Red Riding Hood Unraveling a feverish metaphor for the blossoming of a young girl s sexuality and her subsequent loss of innocence the film entwines symbolism and metaphor with striking visuals and grisly effects Released in the early 1980s a time which produced several classic werewolf films including An American Werewolf in London and The Howling The Company of Wolves sets itself apart from the pack with its overtly literary roots feminist stance and art house leanings The film s narrative takes the form of a puzzle box unfolding as dreams within dreams and stories within stories which lead further into the dark woods of the protagonist s psyche as she finds herself on the cusp of womanhood This Devil s Advocate explores all these aspects as well as placing the film in the context of the careers of its creators and its position as an example of the Female Gothic

Lethal Repetition Richard Dyer, 2019-07-25 Serial killing is an extremely rare phenomenon in reality that is none theless remarkably widespread in the cultural imagination Moreover despite its rarity it is also taken to be an expression of characteristic aspects of humanity masculinity or our times Richard Dyer investigates this paradox focusing on the notion at its heart seriality He considers the aesthetics of the repetition of nastiness and how this relates to the perceptions and anxieties that images of serial killing highlight in the societies that produce them Shifting the focus away from the US which is often seen as the home of the serial killer Lethal Repetition instead examines serial killing in European culture and cinema ranging from Scandinavia to the Mediterranean and from Britain to Romania Spanning all brows of cinema including avant garde art mainstream and trash Dyer provides case studies on Jack the Ripper the equation of Nazism with serial killing and the Italian giallo film to explore what this marginal and uncommon crime is being made to mean on European screens Caligari's Heirs Steffen
