Speech Hon Charles Sumner Massachusetts:

Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts on the Crime Against Kansas Charles Sumner, 1856 Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts on Maritime Rights Charles Sumner, 1862 Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, on the Cession of Russian America to the United States ... Charles Sumner, 1867 Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts. In the Senate of the United States, May 19, 1856., 19 May 1856 Charles Sumner, 1856

Sumner's speech was delivered in Washington D C and published by the New York Tribune in New York City. Last page advertises and lists prices for different issues of the Tribune. Sumner declares I fearlessly assert that the wrongs of much abused Sicily thus memorable in history were small by the side of the wrongs of Kansas where the very shrines of popular institutions more sacred than heathen altar have been desecrated where the ballot box more precious than any work has been plundered. Opposes what he calls the forcible introduction of slavery in Kansas and its protection under the formal safeguards of pretended law.

Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner of Massachusetts on the Abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia Charles Sumner, 1862* Speech of the Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, on the Barbarism of Slavery, Delivered in the U.S. Senate, June 4th, 1860; Also, The Republican Platform Charles Sumner, 1811-1874

Charles Sumner,2015-07-08 Excerpt from Speech of Hon Charles Sumner of Massachusetts Delivered in the Senate of the United States May 31 1872 The sundry civil appropriation bill coming up as unfinished business Mr Sumner moved to postpone indefinitely its consideration and proceeded to review the report of the Committee on the Sale of Arms to French agents Mr Sumner then said Mr President I have no hesitation in declaring myself a member of the Republican party and one of the strictest of the sect I doubt if any Senator can point to earlier or more constant service in its behalf I began at the beginning and from that early day have never failed to sustain its candidates and to advance its principles For these I have labored always by speech and vote in the Senate and elsewhere at first with few only but at last as success began to dawn then with multitudes flocking forward In this cause I never asked who were my associates or how many they would number In the consciousness of right I was willing to be alone To such a party with which so much of thy life is intertwined I have no common attachment Not without regret can I see it suffer not without a pang can I see it changed from its original character for such a change is death Therefore do not ask with no common feeling that the peril which menaces it may pass away I stood by its cradle let me not follow its hearse Origin and Object of the Republican Party Turning back to its birth I recall a speech of my own at a State convention in Massachusetts as far back as September 7 1854 where I vindicated its principles and announced its name in these words As Republicans we go forth to encounter the Oligarchs of Slavery The report records the applause with which this name was received by the excited multitude Years of conflict ensued in which the good cause constantly gained At last in the summer of 1860 Abraham Lincoln was nominated by this party as its candidate for the Presidency and here pardon me if I refer again to myself On my way home from the Senate I was detained in New York by the invitation of party friends to speak at the Cooper Institute on the issues of the pending election The speech was made July 12 and I believe was the earliest of the campaign As published at the time it was entitled Origin Necessity and Permanence of the Republican Party and to exhibit these was its precise object Both the necessity and permanence of the party were asserted A brief passage which I take from the report in the New York Herald will show the duty and destiny I ventured then to hold up Alter dwelling on the evils of Slavery and the corruptions it had engendered including the purchase of votes at the polls I proceeded as follows Therefore just so long as the present false theories of slavery prevail whether concerning its character morally economically and socially or concerning its prerogatives under the Constitution just so long as the Slave Oligarchy which is the sleepless and unhesitating agent of Slavery in all its pretensions continues to exist as a political power the Republican party must endure Applause If bad men conspire for Slavery good men must combine for Freedom Good good Nor can the holy war be ended until the barbarism now dominant in the Republic is overthrown and the Pagan power is driven from our Jerusalem Applause And when the triumph is won securing the immediate object of our organization the Republican party will not die but purified by its long contest with Slavery and filled with higher life it will be lifted to yet other efforts with nobler aims for the no of man Applause three cheers for Lincoln Such on the eve of the presidential election was my description of the Republican party and my aspiration for its future It was not to die but purified by long contest with Slavery and filled with higher life we were to beho Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, on His Motion to Repeal the Fugitive Slave Bill, in the Senate of the United States, August 26, 1852 Charles Sumner, 1852
