First Time Set Up

How it works: The Super Trackstick contains a vibration detector which will place the unit in a "sleep" mode after 1 minute of non-motion. As soon as a vibration (movement) is sensed, the unit instantly becomes active and begins logging data. This should be always active, and can't be deactivated via user programming. At the super track base, the unit turns on for a few seconds to measure last-loc location and verify position. This special function runs hourly and significantly.

Programming: Super Trackstick connects to your USB port, click, and record options are now possible.

Full Power: Record
Power Save: Record

To decrease frequency
from 1 to 10 minutes

Instructions apply

Power: With the unit inserted into your USB port, click, and record options are now possible. For more details, see page 10 and 11.

Frequency: Set to "normal", then select from 1 to 10 minutes.

IMPORTANT INITIAL SETUP: When ready to use, TrackStick must be turned on and exposed to "open sky" for 15-20 minutes in order to "log" all available satellites. During this time, the vibration detector will not turn the unit off until all available satellites are located. After this period, TrackStick may be placed in a location of your choice. Do not leave TrackStick turned on indoors, as it will use battery power rapidly as it searches for satellites.
