

BICENTENNIAL IN TEXAS

January February 1976

Gladys City: new old town

When the Beaumont Bicentennial Committee decided to celebrate a 150-year-old event that helped change the world in the Southwest, all discovery — they decided a simple ceremony was not enough.

Youth is desire to make the celebration appropriately important and with a lot of hard work, the BBC under Chairman Vic Rogers, has accomplished something remarkable: the rebirth of a 150-year-old city as a permanent museum.

At about 10 a.m. January 10, 1821, the "Lucky" Gunther exploded at San Antonio, leaving not only a new state in new Texas, Gladys City, but the BBC has transformed the flavor. At 10 a.m. January 10, 1976, Governor Dolph Briscoe and delegates of the Gladys City Bicentennial Association celebrated rebirth of a 150-year-old city with period buildings, uniforms with period uniforms, located on the Texas University campus.

A full day of hours and activities were planned, capped by the grand opening banquet of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce with an invitation by Governor Briscoe. Gladys City, grand master, is based in a 19th-century building featuring banks, bonds, and a drugstore, including such odd items as old-time flavor to their menu.

Invitations and Bicentennial patches and medallions will be available with compensation to help finance the project and its continuation. Shuttle buses will carry the expected large turnout to the site, near the intersection of University Drive and Loop 251 (U.S. Highway 89, Rd. 900) on the campus.

Gladys City will have an on-a-pace-rental gift to the nation, with free guided tours available seven days a week, from 1 to 3 p.m. The Texas Gunther Monument Association will move its San Antonio monument to the site in the near future, as part of a new San Antonio Museum — Phase II of this unique heritage project.

The opening of Gladys City was picked as one of the 20 top Bicentennial events in the country for January by the Bicentennial News Service of the Discover America Travel Organization in Washington.

The Gladys City project was further honored by receiving a certificate of merit from the Beaumont Texas Council.

Gladys City is built around a square, reproducing as closely as possible the original city. The buildings include a dry goods store, post office, livery stable, blacksmith shop, photography studio, industrial building, pharmacy, and doctor's office.

Also included are the offices of Nelson and White, engineers, the Gladys City Oil, Gas and Manufacturing Company, public health facilities, a barber shop, a building housing brokers, attorneys and Attorney Oil Company offices, a general store with boarding houses on the second floor, and the big Gladys Saloon with its broiled oysters, the upstairs section.

As an added attraction, an observation tower has been built off the main square to provide an overview of the turn-of-the-century city.

All the buildings are completely furnished with antiques of the era generously donated by area residents.

Ethnic lit symposium

A symposium on the existence and development of ethnic literature in the United States will be held in late January on the campus of Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Ethnic scholars from major universities across the country will present papers on the symposium, which is an endorsed Bicentennial event of the University and the city of Lubbock.

The symposium, entitled "Ethnic Literatures Since 1776: The Many Voices of America," will include papers by 24 scholars on the major literary works written in American languages other than English since before the Revolutionary era.

A sampling of the topics: "Coastal Literature in American," "American Ethnic Poets," "World's Mouth of Doom: Characteristics, Images and Incident in American Indian Imaginative Literature," and "Who Will Ever Hear What I Talked and Discussed: Postwar Latin American Literature in the United States."

The idea of looking inquiry into the non-English literatures of the United States with the Bicentennial in historical, comparative, and culturally necessary, writes Dr. Michael Wayne Zyla, Chairman of the Texas Interdisciplinary Committee on Comparative Literature.

Zyla continues, "It is true that nearly every ethnic group in the United States has some members in its life and development in the form of written works and historical artifacts."

It is possible that some ethnic books, as a result of this symposium, will be later translated into English for the benefit of wider reading circles.

At the conclusion of the symposium, the papers will be published in a volume. For more information on Ethnic Literatures Since 1776, contact Dr. Zyla at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX 79409.
