society The need to model for our students how to talk openly and comfortably about race is critical in America today but it is still an issue that is difficult to tackle To overcome the common fear of discussing race of saying something wrong this book brings together over thirty contributions by teachers and students of different ethnicities and races who offer their experiences ideas and advice With passion and sensitivity they cover such topics as the development of racial consciousness and identity in children admit their failures and continuing struggles write about creating safe spaces and the climate that promotes thoughtful discussion model self reflection demonstrate the importance of giving voice to students recount how they responded to racial incidents and used current affairs to discuss oppression describe courses and strategies they have developed explain the n word present exercises and pose questions For any teacher grappling with addressing race in the classroom and for pre service teachers confronting their anxieties about race this book offers a rich resource of insights approaches and guidance that will allay fears and provide the reflective practitioner with the confidence to initiate and respond to discussion of race from the pre school and elementary classroom through high school

Films as Rhetorical Texts Janice D. Hamlet,2019-11-13 Films as Rhetorical Texts Cultivating Discussion about Race Racism and Race Relations presents critical essays focusing on select commercial films and what they can teach us about race racism and race relations in America The films in this volume are critically assessed as rhetorical texts using various aspects and components of critical race theory recognizing that race and racism are intricately ingrained in American society Contributors argue that by viewing and evaluating culture centered films often centered around race and critically analyzing them faculty and students can promote the opportunity for genuine open discussions about race racism and race relations in the United States specifically in the higher education classroom Scholars of film studies media studies race studies and education will find this book particularly useful

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Caprice Hollins,Ilsa Govan,2015-03-19 Facilitating conversations about race often involves tension as both the facilitators and participants bring emotional experiences and their deeply held values and beliefs into the room Diversity Equity and Inclusion Strategies for Facilitating Conversations on Race guides facilitators through a process of becoming comfortable with the discomfort in leading conversations about racism privilege and power This book walks you through the important steps to create a foundation where participants feel brave enough to take risks and share their stories and perspectives It guides you through strategies for engaging participants in courageous conversations with one another in ways that don t shame and blame people into understanding This book is a useful tool for individuals organizations and college professors who are interested in learning techniques for guiding their audience through dialogue whereby they become open to listening to one another for understanding rather than holding on to old beliefs and maintaining a posture of defense Readers will learn how the dynamics of race show up in cross cultural spaces including the unique challenges faced by facilitators of color and white facilitators In addition we explore how to identify and counter white privilege in the dialogue between participants Both novice and experienced facilitators will learn helpful strategies for leading conversation that result in people recognizing their role as change agents in ending oppression Research Anthology on Empowering Marginalized Communities and Mitigating Racism and Discrimination Management Association, Information Resources, 2021-02-05
