Tadao Ando Tadao Andō, 2009 A survey of the extensive series of museums designed and built by Tadao Ando in Japan Europe and the USA Ever since Tadao Ando started to establish himself more than thirty years ago as one of the best designers on the international scene for the rigour and character of his works his intense activity has moved tirelessly between private residences and public buildings Each of these works has added a small piece to the construction of a cohesive path based on a strong and clear use of geometry the employment of few materials in the right proportions the harmony of the spaces and a strong sense of the relationship with the landscape From this point of view the series of museums designed by Tadao Ando tells of the Japanese master's design philosophy perfectly Nothingness: Tadao Ando's

Christian Sacred Space Jin Baek, 2009-06-12 Based around an interview with Tadao Ando this book explores the influence of the Buddhist concept of nothingness on Ando's Christian architecture and sheds new light on the cultural significance of the buildings of one of the world's leading contemporary architects Specifically this book situates Ando's churches particularly his world renowned Church of the Light 1989 within the legacy of nothingness expounded by Kitaro Nishida 1870-1945 the father of the Kyoto Philosophical School Linking Ando's Christian architecture with a philosophy originating in Mahayana Buddhism illuminates the relationship between the two religious systems as well as tying Ando's architecture to the influence of Nishida on post war Japanese art and culture

Seven Interviews with Tadao Ando Tadao Andō, Michael Auping, 2002 This book accompanies and celebrates the opening of new Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth designed by Japanese architect Tadao Ando The interviews reveal Ando's central belief that architecture is all about creating exquisite and wonderful memories which come about when a building allows its occupants to connect with themselves and make their intellectual dreams become possible This is what gives life to architectural space But Ando also recognizes that creation of such memories must involve the architect taking risks particularly with materials and location in the case of Fort Worth the building's double skin of concrete volume encased in a glass skin box is entirely new These concepts are discussed not only within the specific context of the Fort Worth building but also within the context of Ando's wider underlying philosophy and beliefs Michael Auping considers the key influences in Ando's career particularly his initial experience as a builder his early travels around his native Japan the influence of ancient classical buildings such as the Pantheon in Rome and the work of artists like Brancusi Henry Moore and Isamu Noguchi The influence of other architects such as Le Corbusier Lloyd Wright but especially Louis Khan is also discussed in this context Finally the interviews consider Ando's use of concrete as a building material both in its historic context and in terms of its relation to his theories on colour space and depth

Transcultural Architecture Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, 2016-03-09 Critical Regionalism is a notion which gained popularity in architectural debate as a synthesis of universal modern elements and individualistic elements derived from local cultures This book shifts the focus from Critical Regionalism towards a broader concept of Transcultural Architecture and defines Critical Regionalism as a subgroup of the latter One of the benefits that this change of perspective brings about is that a large part of the political agenda of Critical Regionalism which consists of resisting attitudes forged by typically Western experiences is softened and negotiated according to premises provided by local circumstances A further benefit is that several responses dependent on factors that initial definitions of Critical Regionalism never took into account can now be considered At the book's centre is an analysis of Reima and Raili Pietilä's Sief Palace Area project in Kuwait Further cases of modern architecture in China Korea and Saudi Arabia show that the critique which holds that Critical Regionalism is a typical western exercise is not sound in all circumstances The book argues that there are different Critical Regionalisms and not all of them impose Western paradigms on non Western cultures Non Western regionalists can also successfully participate in the Western enlightened discourse even when they do not directly and consciously act against Western models Furthermore the book proposes that a certain architectural rationality can be contained in architecture itself not imposed by outside parameters like aesthetics comfort or even tradition but flowing out of a social game of which architecture is a part The key concept is that of the form of life as developed by Ludwig Wittgenstein whose thoughts are here linked to Critical Regionalism Kenneth Frampton argues that Critical Regionalism offers something well beyond comfort and accommodation What he has in mind are ethical prescripts closely linked to a Interpretation in Architecture Adrian Snodgrass, Richard Coyne, 2013-05-13 Drawing on cultural theory phenomenology and concepts from Asian art and philosophy this book reflects on the role of interpretation in the act of architectural creation bringing an intellectual and scholarly dimension to real world architectural design practice For practising architects as well as academic researchers these essays consider interpretation from three theoretical standpoints or themes play edification and otherness Focusing on these the book draws together strands of thought informed by the diverse reflections of hermeneutical scholarship the uses of digital media and studio teaching and practice Poetically Man Dwells Finn Porter, dichterisch wohnet der Mensch Man dwells poetically Heidegger Poetically Man Dwells is a compendium guide for understanding one of the twentieth century's most formidable philosophers focusing on his core anti-metaphysical concepts his legacy in the West and East his focus on Schopenhauerian Nietzschean reading of Anaximander and the Pre-Socratics and his lasting impact on the modern zeitgeist This book navigates the core of Heidegger's work which posits that our existence is at its foundation poetic and rooted in Speech This is not an aesthetic but a philosophical claim that language in its most essential form as poetry is what first allows a world to emerge This creative power renders poetry both the most innocent of human activities and as Heidegger warned the most dangerous of works central to his secularized speech metaphysics This volume guides the reader through the development of this central idea framed as Heidegger's Onto-chronology his temporal interpretation of being It traces the intricate pathways of his thought from its roots in the classics of Aristotle and Hegel to his decisive and complicated reckoning with Nietzsche The analysis does not shy away from the profound moral dilemma and outright failures posed by the philosopher's own life directly confronting his association with National Socialism The book's scope then widens to chart the migration of Heidegger's ideas into the landscape of American intellectual life where his concepts were absorbed and transformed by influential theologians like Tillich and Schaeffer actively shaping the development of modern evangelical apologetics These same philosophical tools later provided a bridge for Western society writ large to move from Protestant fundamentalism into secular postmodern thought Poetically Man Dwells offers a clear and comprehensive map of Heidegger's demanding philosophy and its enduring resonance in contemporary thought complete with a timeline and glossaries of Heidegger's concepts and arguments The Embodied Image Juhani Pallasmaa, 2011-05-16 The Embodied Image The Embodied Image Imagination and Imagery in Architecture Juhani Pallasmaa All artistic and architectural effects are evoked mediated and experienced through poeticised images These images are embodied and lived experiences that take place in the flesh of the world becoming part of us at the same time that we unconsciously project aspects of ourselves on to a conceived space object or event Artistic images have a life and reality of their own and they develop through unexpected associations rather than rational and causal logic Images are usually thought of as retinal pictures but profound poetic images are multi sensory and they address us in an embodied and emotive manner Architecture is usually analysed and taught as a discipline that articulates space and geometry but the mental impact of architecture arises significantly from its image quality that integrates the various aspects and dimensions of experience into a singular internalised and remembered entity The material reality is fused with our mental and imaginative realm The book is organised into five main parts that look at in turn the image in contemporary culture language thought and the image the many faces of the image the poetic image and finally the architectural image The Embodied Image is illustrated with over sixty images in pairs which are diverse in subject They range from scientific images to historic artistic and architectural masterpieces Artworks span Michelangelo and Vermeer to Gordon Matta Clark and architecture takes in Modern Masters such as Mies van der Rohe Le Corbusier and Alvar Aalto as well as significant contemporary works by Steven Holl and Daniel Libeskind

Kenosis Creativity Architecture Randall S. Lindstrom, 2021-03-21 Kenosis Creativity Architecture locates and explores creativity's grounding in the ancient concept of kenosis the emptying that allows creativity to happen that makes appearance possible It concretises that grounding through architecture a primal expression of human creativity critically examining for the first time kenotic instantiations evidenced in four iconic international projects works by Kahn Pei Ando and Libeskind Then in a final turn the potentiality of architecture's own emptying is probed Architect and author Randall Lindstrom draws on Western and Eastern philosophy including that of Heidegger Levinas Derrida Vattimo Nishida and Nishitani as well as on the theology of Christianity Judaism and aspects of Buddhism Hinduism and Islam Every chapter expands the argument that if responsiveness to our world is taken seriously if proper and sustainable responses are to be realised then a deeper understanding of creativity and so kenosis is essential This book opens up a way of thinking about creativity and humanity's readiness to be creative It thereby presents a crucial enquiry at the nexus of architecture philosophy and theology for researchers graduate and postgraduate students and practitioners alike

Atlas: Tadao Ando, 2021-09-07 This highly original and personal exploration of Tadao Ando's work one of Japan's leading architects traverses both the physical and spiritual world In 2012 Philippe Seclier visited Tadao Ando's iconic Church of the Light and was immediately compelled to journey around the world to further study the architect's buildings This unique presentation of Ando's work is the result of what turned into a nine year project to photograph 130 buildings Walking around each structure trying to find the proper framing helped Seclier understand Ando's genius for siting and composition Loosely organized by chronology each building is represented in numerous black and white images arranged like a mosaic on the page These fragmented views correspond to Ando's own philosophy of the logic of structure and geometry. This atlas embraces not only the geographic but also thematic range of Ando's oeuvre from transit stations in Tokyo and Kobe to art museums in Fort Worth Texas and Provence France from an artist's retreat on the Mexican coast to the now demolished Piccadilly Gardens in Manchester England from a theater in Milan Italy to an upscale restaurant in New York City. Seclier's photographs of Ando's numerous religious structures brilliantly illustrate his use of light and shadow to evoke spiritual depth and timelessness while his short texts offer concise observations of each building. A helpful appendix pinpoints the geographic diversity and range of Ando's oeuvre.

Tadao Ando at Naoshima Philip Jodidio, 2006 Combining influences from Japanese tradition with the best of Modernism Ando has developed a completely unique building aesthetic that makes use of concrete wood water light space and nature in a way that has never been witnessed in architecture.
