The Executive Guide to Artificial Intelligence Andrew Burgess, 2024-06-30 This book now in a thoroughly revised and updated second edition takes a pragmatic and hype free approach to explaining artificial intelligence and how it can be utilised by businesses today. At the book's core is a framework which describes in nontechnical language the nine core capabilities of Artificial Intelligence AI. Each of these capabilities ranging from image recognition through prediction to Generative AI is explained using real life examples and how they can be applied in a business environment. The advent of Large Language Models has put AI front and centre of Board discussions. AI has the ability to deliver step change benefits to organisations and enables forward thinking business leaders to rethink their business models or create completely new businesses. But most of the real value of AI is hidden behind marketing hyperbole, confusing terminology, inflated expectations and dire warnings of robot overlords. Any business executive who wants to know how to exploit AI in their business today is left confused and frustrated. As an advisor in AI Andrew Burgess regularly comes face to face with business executives who are struggling to cut through the AI and LLM hype. The knowledge and experience he has gained in advising them has provided him with the skills to help business executives understand what AI is and how they can exploit its many benefits. Through the distilled knowledge included in this book business leaders will be able to take full advantage of this most disruptive of technologies and create substantial competitive advantage for their companies.

Ethos, Technology, and AI

in Contemporary Society Aaron Hess, Jens E. Kjeldsen, 2024-12-10 Bringing together expert rhetorical theorists and technologists this book explores our current understanding of and attitudes toward ethos, credibility and trust in today's changing technological landscape. Recent advancements in technology including the development of digital technologies, the growth of algorithmic machine learning and artificial intelligence and the circulation of disinformation in social media necessitate a reevaluation of ethos. To explore the rhetorical concept of ethos which is the perceived character of a speaker, contributors theorize how ethos is enabled, constrained and constituted through new communication technologies. In this edited collection chapters address key philosophical questions concerning the rhetorical capacities of modern communicating machines such as ChatGPT, Midjourney or other digital platforms. Through case studies new theorizing and critical inquiry contributors contemplate the changing relationship between humans and technology in rhetoric and ethos, revealing contemporary tensions and insecurities regarding issues including authenticity and authorship. This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of Rhetoric, Communication Studies, Technology Studies, Digital Humanities and Cultural Studies.
