Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson, 2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to grab and go meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then next time you've made a mini meal prepped Good Meal Prepping though meal prepping refers to making 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like making your lunches for the week all at once instead of making your lunch every day You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping isn't a waste of time and it's not outside your lane whether that's a plan or a budget When making your meal plan for the week, ask yourself the question: "What am I going to eat each day?" Meal prepping is not for everyone It is good for people who value convenience and efficiency more than variety With meal prepping you can eat the same thing for a few days in a row so you don't have to deal with leftovers or get bored with food Meal prepping is not for everyone If you're not maximizing your time, your budget is more valuable than trying to do something different every day Meal prepping is not for everyone It's generally not seen as a meal for the month or maybe one other person doing a whole meal Meal prepping for a whole family would be quite difficult but if you're on your own, it's a great idea If food is stored in the refrigerator, it's a slow process In addition to the way food is packed, the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the quality of your refrigerated meal So the level of acceptability of the texture and flavor will be subjective to the eater Always begin with the refrigerator guidelines that the FDA and the National Institute of Health give you your own preferences In general, I don't like to eat more than five days worth of food but I find that that's a fair amount of food to eat for a week
