Things Money Cant Buy:

Things Money Can't Buy André Laurin, 2012-01-04 Things money can't buy carries the reader to a kind of life where at first glance everything looks beautiful. A major investment company which the young president SARTO is a well-off and where luxury is exposed at its best. He has a wonderful life, a very promising career, gorgeous wife, huge house, expensive car, everything to be happy. Unfortunately, his fate will soon be marked down for ever into a car accident that will drastically change his life and let him paralysed. Beyond the physical pain remains the mental pain. Since he has no choice than change his nice and golden leather seat as a board of director's president to become against his will seated and prisoner of a wheelchair. Life doesn't glow anymore. On very seldom times will he smile at this awful new life but most of the time not. He will seriously think he doesn't deserve to live anymore and doesn't accept being a pain for his lovely wife. Flabbergasted he will think of suicide as the best solution. Also with the uncontrollable situation he will meet a beggar TOM who believes only into his bottle and swears at God and curses at life and whose best desire would be to die also. Nothing holds him alive. He already tried suicide a couple of times but it seems life allowed him to live. His last months have been a real pain, more of a nightmare. But looking at each other Tom will change his mind and look further beyond his secretly hidden burden. Together they will find a way to laugh at life and together they will become close friends and begin making things money can't buy. How can a happy man thank a friend for helping him so nicely? How the friendship can be salvaged when one tries to search into the other's personal life? How to keep a secret one is not supposed to be aware of? What can happen when the wife wants to help? A novel which makes the reader visit his emotions about life concerns. A book that one cannot quit before knowing what's up next page.
