Electronic Hive Minds on Social Media: Emerging Research and Opportunities Hai-Jew, Shalin,2019-05-31

Researchers have harnessed the flood of personal information and opinions shared on social media platforms in a variety of ways. People communicate not only what they imagine they are purposely sharing but also unintentionally leak information which allows others to glimpse a sense of the subconscious and unconscious at a macro level. Electronic Hive Minds on Social Media Emerging Research and Opportunities explores various research techniques to profile the electronic hive mind around social topics as expressed on various modalities of social media from human bot and cyborg social media accounts and proposes new research methods for harnessing public data from social media platforms. Highlighting topics such as knowledge sharing, swarm intelligence and social psychology, this publication is designed for researchers, social psychologists, practitioners and students in marketing, communications, mass media and similar fields.

Beyond open access: visions for open evaluation of scientific papers by post-publication peer review Nikolaus Kriegeskorte, Diana Deca, A scientific publication system needs to provide two basic services: access and evaluation. The traditional publication system restricts the access to papers by requiring payment and it restricts the evaluation of papers by relying on just 2-4 pre-publication peer reviews and by keeping the reviews secret. As a result, the current system suffers from a lack of quality and transparency of the peer review evaluation process and the only immediately available indication of a new paper's quality is the prestige of the journal it appeared in. Open access is now widely accepted as desirable and is slowly beginning to become a reality. However, the second essential element, evaluation, has received less attention. Open evaluation, an ongoing post-publication process of transparent peer review and rating of papers, promises to address the problems of the current system. However, it is unclear how exactly such a system should be designed. The evaluation system steers the attention of the scientific community and thus the very course of science. For better or worse, the most visible papers determine the direction of each field and guide funding and public policy decisions. Evaluation, therefore, is at the heart of the entire endeavor of science. As the number of scientific publications explodes, evaluation and selection will only gain importance. A grand challenge of our time, therefore, is to design the future system by which we evaluate papers and decide which ones deserve broad attention. So far, scientists have left the design of the evaluation process to journals and publishing companies. However, the steering mechanism of science should be designed by scientists. The cognitive, computational and brain sciences are best prepared to take on this task, which will involve social and psychological considerations, software design and modeling of the network of scientific papers and their interrelationships. This Research Topic in Frontiers in Computational Neuroscience collects visions for a future system of open evaluation. Because critical arguments about the current system abound, these papers will focus on constructive ideas and comprehensive designs for open evaluation systems. Design decisions include: Should the reviews and ratings be entirely transparent or should some aspects be kept secret? Should other information such as paper downloads be included in the evaluation How can scientific objectivity be strengthened and political motivations weakened in the future system Should the system include signed and authenticated reviews and ratings Should the evaluation be an ongoing process such that promising papers are more deeply evaluated How can we bring science and statistics to the evaluation process e g should rating averages come with error bars How should the evaluative information about each paper e g peer ratings be combined to prioritize the literature Should different individuals and organizations be able to define their own evaluation formulae e g weighting ratings according to different criteria How can we efficiently transition toward the future system Ideally the future system will derive its authority from a scientific literature on community based open evaluation We hope that these papers will provide a starting point Android for Work Marziah Karch,2011-01-26 Android is new Android is open and Android is fun It s also serious about business Android for Work shows you how to harness the power of Android to stay productive and take your office on the road This book also sheds light on the often daunting task of finding the right Android phone for the business user Whether this is your first smartphone your first Android smartphone or your first attempt to make your phone into a productivity tool Android for Work gets you started You ll learn how to manage email and tasks but you ll also learn how to weed through the sea of games to find specialized productivity tools for a variety of professions For those that are more interested in an enterprise wide deployment the book includes an appendix of information on administering Android phones creating custom interfaces and creating specialized apps for your enterprise You ll also learn more about integrating Android with other Google Apps for enterprise Ajax, Rich Internet Applications, and Web Development for Programmers Paul J.
