Diversity in Deaf Education Marc Marschark, Venetta Lampropoulou, Emmanouil K. Skordilis, 2016-05-31 Deaf children are not hearing children who can't hear. Beyond any specific effects of hearing loss as a group they are far more diverse than hearing peers. Lack of full access to language, incidental learning and social interactions as well as the possibility of secondary disabilities means that deaf learners face a variety of challenges in academic domains. Technological innovations such as digital hearing aids and cochlear implants have improved hearing and the possibility of spoken language for many deaf learners but parents, teachers and other professionals are just now coming to recognize that there are cognitive, experiential and social emotional differences between deaf and hearing students likely to affect academic outcomes. Sign languages and schools and programs for deaf learners thus remain an important part of the continuum of services needed for this diverse population. Understanding such diversity and determining ways in which to accommodate them must become a top priority in educating deaf learners. Through the participation of an international interdisciplinary set of scholars, Diversity in Deaf Education takes a broad view of learning and academic progress considering the whole child in the context of the families languages, educational settings in which they are immersed. In adopting this perspective the complexities and commonalities in the social, emotional, cognitive and linguistic mosaic of which the deaf child is a part are captured. It is only through such a holistic consideration of diverse children developing within diverse settings that we can understand their academic potentials.

See Through You Lula White, 2022-08-11 Return to the lavish world of Black prestige, prominence and perseverance in the Black Hamptons. Eugenia Rouse. Several years ago I had it all. Married to a wealthy banker in New York, my social worker career on the rise, this girl from the South side of Chicago had left behind her hard knock life. But the fairytale could not silence my demons or heal me from my family's past tragedy. Now I'm a single mother in a bare knuckled court battle with my ex-husband and on the brink of losing the most important person to me, my son. I can't foul up again. So I'm not taking any risks. Not on crazy social scenes, not on foreign excursions with strangers, and not on romance. Especially not with the brazen rowdy likes of Keenan McLain. Keenan McLain. Hell, I'm a roughneck from Baltimore who loves his smash first ask questions later lifestyle. As the CEO of the East Coast's new black owned luxury adventure company, I can have practically any woman here in the Hamptons. I want. But damn, I'm growing obsessed with only one. Our Christmas hookup a few months ago was supposed to be a one and done. But Eugenia was too explosive, a quiet storm with depth she hides from the world and I want more of. But that night really was just a puff puff pass for her. She's older than me. People say she's got issues, but I'm the one having withdrawals over her. Am I really ready to give up my life and go all in to be her man? How do I convince her to move on from her past despair and take a risk with her heart one more time? Especially for an unproven young hood like me? This is Book 4 of Explore Men of the Hamptons series and can be read as a standalone. It has a prequel novella offered for free on Lula White's web site, Christmas Down Under, but it is not necessary to understand this storyline. This is a complete
