Madichie, Robert Ebo Hinson, 2022-01-21 The Creative Industries and International Business Development in Africa takes an unorthodox approach to showcasing the trends and challenges of the contemporary creative economy with a view to positioning the sector for a global audience The Theory of Access Replacing Ownership on the Example of Spotify Marie Heimer, 2011 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics General grade 1.3 University of Popular Music and Music Business Popakademie Baden W rttemberg course Musikbusiness BWL language English abstract Although the recording industry finds itself in a challenging economic situation very little is known about how to build up a business model which fulfils the demands of a new generation The theory of access replacing ownership provides another perspective concerning the so called digital natives The analysis of the demands of this consumer groups shows that the ownership of music seems to be obsolete to them The music consumers of today and tomorrow do no longer care about owning music The Swedish model Spotify offers music on an advertisement and subscription base and is depicted as an example in which consumers are offered a model of access The thesis results provide general information about the notion of property and ownership as a whole as well as it recovers the development of these notions on the digital age and their deep impact on the economic behaviour and the scope of dealing with these changes The thesis uses self generated data from a survey as well as literary sources and serves as a road sign indicating the issues of access in several parts of economy with the focus on Spotify and the recording industry The findings of the thesis

can be generalised to any industry that offers digital entertainment content

The Economics Impact of Access versus Ownership. An Analysis of Spotify Jacob Papageorgiou, 2016-12-08 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1.0 Kingston University London Music course BA Music language English abstract The recording industry is undergoing an economic decline The new generation needs a business model which supplements the demands of the digital age This dissertation investigates the consumption of digital music Rapid development in the digital music market has been led by the growth of online streaming services such as Spotify Consumers now have the choice to obtain songs from a selection of paid and non paid legal sources A perspective concerning digital natives is seen through the theory of access replacing ownership Consumer group analysis of demands shows that ownership seems to be outdated Spotify acts as an example to the theory of access Access and ownership is further examined in this dissertation These ideas are analysed alongside the economic impact of consumer behaviour in the music industry
