The Wholeness Of Nature Goethes Way Toward A:

The Wholeness of Nature Henri Bortoft, 1996-10 In the course of every human life moments come often so quietly as to be almost unrecognized that are so subtle and unobtrusive they pass without one being fully aware of them These moments are like the gentle tones of birds singing in their sleep the faint sound of a bell ringing far away or the gentle touch of an invisible hand Nevertheless all these moments perceived or unperceived are manifestations of destiny in each human life the evidence of things not seen They express the secret language of the heart and invite one to begin a journey They involve taking important steps on a life path which one senses instinctively will ultimately lead to the light of one's own higher self and into the world of spiritual reality the land where the real foundations of life purposes are to be found Thus one sets out on a path that can lead to the unfolding of the unique mystery of each individual life story Such is the substance of the journey described in these pages Paul Marshall Allen Paul Allen was born into a Quaker family on June 26 1913 in the small upstate New York village of Conquest The life that followed was as varied outwardly as it was deeply committed inwardly to following a path of knowledge He was a teacher actor writer and publisher each role connecting him with the world as a Rosicrucian soul For Paul the most important event of destiny occurred when he encountered Rudolf Steiner's spiritual science through the actor Michael Chekhov leading Paul to dedicate his life to Anthroposophy as a path of inner knowledge and activity in the world In A Rosicrucian Soul Russell Pooler takes the reader on a journey through the life of a man who profoundly affected everyone he encountered During the early days of Anthroposophy in North America Paul delved deeply into Rudolf Steiner's works and became the first American born anthroposophic lecturer traveling across the continent and bringing the few far flung Anthroposophic Society members in North America a greater sense of unity and purpose In New York City with Bernie Garber he began publishing the works of Rudolf Steiner and with Carlo Pietzner compiled A Christian Rosenkreutz Anthology Paul Allen eventually started his own publishing company St George Book Service a mail order book business in western Massachusetts Later destiny took Paul and his wife architect Joan deRis Allen to Camphill villages in the British Isles and Norway where they lived as Paul produced numerous plays the most significant of which were Rudolf Steiner's Four Mystery Dramas Throughout this life story as outer events unfold the reader is guided to a sense of the inner activities of this very Rosicrucian soul and perhaps more important to glimpses of how each of us affects each other through our inner struggles and consequent actions

The Wholeness of Nature Henri Bortoft, 1996 Whereas most readers are familiar with Goethe as a poet and dramatist few are familiar with his scientific work In this brilliant book Henri Bortoft who began his studies of Goethean science with J G Bennett and David Bohm introduces the fascinating scientific theories of Goethe He succeeds in showing that Goethe's way of doing science was not a poet's folly but a genuine alternative to the dominant scientific paradigm Bortoft shows that a different gentler kind of empiricism is possible than that demanded by the dualizing mind of modern technological science and demonstrates that Goethe's participatory phenomenology of a new way of seeing while far from being a historical curiosity in fact proposes a practical solution to the dilemmas of contemporary postmodern science If you read only one book on Goethan science this should be the one Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert,Tim Waterman,2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies Landscape describes places as relationships and processes Landscapes create people s identities and guide their actions and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people Food as currency medium and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy anthropology archaeology conservation countryside management cultural studies ecology ethics geography heritage studies landscape architecture landscape management and planning literature urban design and architecture Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters overlap within the book Right Research Geoffrey Rockwell,Oliver Rossier,Chelsea Miya,2021-04-29 The book is current and interdisciplinary engaging with recent developments around this topic and including perspectives from sciences arts and humanities It will be a welcome contribution to studies of the Anthropocene as well as studies of research methods and practices Sam Mickey University of S Francisco Educational institutions play an instrumental role in social and political change and are responsible for the environmental and social ethics of their institutional practices The essays in this volume critically examine scholarly research practices in the age of the Anthropocene and ask what accountability educators and researchers have in righting their relationship to the environment The volume further calls attention to the geographical financial legal and political barriers that might limit scholarly dialogue by excluding researchers from participating in traditional modes of scholarly conversation As such Right Research is a bold invitation to the academic community to rigorous self reflection on what their research looks like how it is conducted and how it might be developed so as to increase accessibility and sustainability and decrease carbon footprint The volume follows a three part structure that bridges conceptual and practical concerns the first section challenges our assumptions about how sustainability is defined measured and practiced the second section showcases artist researchers whose work engages with the impact of humans on our environment while the third section investigates how academic spaces can model eco conscious behaviour This timely volume responds to an increased demand for environmentally sustainable research and is outstanding not only in its interdisciplinarity but its embrace of non traditional formats spanning academic articles creative acts personal reflections and dialogues Right Research will be a valuable resource for educators and researchers interested in developing and hybridizing their scholarly communication formats in the face of the current climate crisis University at the Threshold Nigel Hoffmann,2020-10-26 Concern for the world today provides the impetus to ask of ourselves a profound question how can our way of knowing the very style of our thinking which informs our research and our teaching come to express care to reveal itself to be a deed and duty of care Basing this practical study on the human quality of care for the world around us Nigel Hoffmann takes us to a threshold beyond which lies a true science of living form Care he says springs from the whole human being the thinking heart and will and is implicit in the scientific method of conscious inner participation in nature that derives from the work of the poet and scientist Goethe The Goethean approach a living form that unites science and art is not an alternative to contemporary science but complements it Artistic practice says Hoffmann is a guide across the threshold and into the sphere of the living whole But artistic sensibility can be raised to a higher possibility of itself allowing us to discover the faculties of cognitive feeling and cognitive will The author calls for a grounding in Goethean science for all students as a preliminary to their specialist and professional studies He introduces us to the concept of the metamorphosis of the university from the doctoral ideal to the ideal of the whole human being and concludes with a case study of the economic sphere and capital using Goethean methodology This profound book indicates a transformative path for human culture and civilization in the 21st century Sweet Science Amanda Jo Goldstein,2017-07-10 Introduction sweet science Blake s mundane egg epigenesis and milieux Equivocal life Goethe s journals on morphology Tender semiosis reading Goethe with Lucretius and Paul de Man Growing old together Lucretian materialism in Shelley s The triumph of life A natural history of violence allegory and atomism in Shelley s The mask of anarchy Coda old materialism or romantic Marx The Seasons Luke Fischer,David Macauley,2021-07-01 Although the seasons have been a perennial theme in literature and art their significance for philosophy and environmental theory has remained largely unexplored This pioneering book demonstrates the ways in which inquiry into the seasons reveals new and illuminating perspectives for philosophy environmental thought anthropology cultural studies aesthetics poetics and literary criticism The Seasons opens up new avenues for research in these fields and provides a valuable resource for teachers and students of the environmental humanities The innovative essays herein address a wide range of seasonal cultures and geographies from the traditional Western model of the four seasons spring summer fall and winter to the Indigenous seasons of Australia and the Arctic Exemplifying the crucial importance of interdisciplinary research The Seasons makes a compelling case for the relevance of the seasons to our daily lives scientific understanding diverse cultural practices and politics The Social Archetype Nigel Hoffmann,2024-05-24 We live in a time of multiple challenges to our rights and freedoms not only in authoritarian regimes but also in liberal democracies around the globe As the storm clouds of crisis gather Rudolf Steiner s social vision now a century old offers a clear way forward Radical in his time and still so today Steiner s social threefolding is not conceived as a logical system Rather his picture of society as a living threefold unity as a social organism is an artistic insight that needs to be grasped imaginatively To understand its three dimensions the economic the political legal and cultural spiritual spheres and how they relate to each other is to experience them inwardly This requires a living creative thinking that is able to enter the archetypal forces behind the concepts a modern day truly Goethean approach to the social sciences In an illuminating study Hoffmann s dynamic presentation enables us to develop precisely such an artistic imaginative understanding of the threefold social organism He achieves this through clear descriptions of its principles and practical governance whilst offering wise advice regarding the adaptation of education at school and tertiary levels for a threefold society

Into the Heart's Land Henry Barnes,2005 Henry Barnes the author of A Life for the Spirit brings us a comprehensive view of the roots and development of anthroposophy throughout North America From its seminal beginnings with a few hearty souls in New York City it moved across the prairies to the west coast and beyond to Canada Mexico and Hawaii and took root in the hearts and minds of the new world Here is the story of those adventurous spirits who took responsibility for bringing the work of Rudolf Steiner to North America in the form of study groups agricultural initiatives

Waldorf and special education the arts and so much more

Genetics and the Manipulation of Life Craig Holdrege,1996

A provocative work that challenges our common assumptions about nature and science this book is for all who want to understand the biological revolution of the late twentieth century In this clearly written well illustrated book Holdrege describes using fascinating examples how living organisms develop and exist within the context of their environments In an age when we are able to reshape life on earth this book offers a deeper more complex vision of nature one that can help us establish a more conscious and responsible connection to the world around us

Taking Appearance Seriously Henri

Bortoft,2012-10-25 The history of western metaphys from Plato onwards is dominated by the dualism of being and appearance What something really is its true being is believed to be hidden behind the mere appearances through which it manifests Twentieth century European thinkers radically overturned this foundation With Martin Heidegger and Hans Georg Gadamer came a major step towards taking appearance seriously exploring a way of seeing that draws attention back upstream from what is experienced into the act of experiencing Understood in this way perception is a dynamic event a phenomenon in which the observer participates Henri Bortoft guides us through this dynamic way of seeing in various areas of experience in distinguishing things the finding of meaning and the relationship between thought and words He also explores similarities with Goethe s reflections on the coming into being of the living plant Here in another reversal of classical thinking we find that even in their diversity of appearances living things are not separate but in relation Diversity is the dynamic unity of life itself Expanding the scope of his previous book The Wholeness of Nature the author shows how Goethean insights combine with the dynamic way of seeing in continental philosophy to offer us an actively experienced life of meaning This book will be of interest to anyone who wants to understand the contribution and wider implications of modern European thought in the world today     Dialogue and Universalism ,2000     Yoga Psychology and the Transformation of Consciousness Don Salmon,Jan Maslow,2007-09 From the perspective of yoga psychology the view from infinity even our basest instincts our most mundane acts and our greatest follies can be understood as the limited or distorted expressions of a purposeful compassionate and infinite intelligence Yoga Psychology is based on the writings of Sri Aurobindo the revolutionary poet and philosopher who founded the independence movement in India later led by Mahatma Ghandi     The Structurist ,1999     Developmental Dynamics in Humans and Other Primates Jos Verhulst,2003 Belgian scientist Jos Verhulst presents the most thorough research to date elaborating an evolutionary theory first set forth by Dutch anatomist Louis Bolk in the early twentieth century This theory is based on the proposition that dynamic principles inherent in the development of individual organisms are also at work in animal evolution as a whole A chimpanzee fetus for example is strikingly similar to its human counterpart its cranium is rounded its face flat and its hair is restricted to its head As it develops however the chimp diverges from its original humanlike form assuming specialized apelike features In this detailed comparative study of numerous organs Verhulst shows that unlike the other primates humans retain their original juvenile form Standing Darwin on his head he concludes that humans did not descend from apes rather apes evolved by diverging from a humanlike prototype He also shows that our human tendency to retain our fetal form fetalization or retardation is complemented by further development hypermorphosis of such organs as the legs heels forebrain and larynx through which we attain our eminently human capacities of upright posture thinking and speech In the last chapter Verhulst sketches a broad view of how retardation and hypermorphosis have worked together in animal evolution He speculates for example that vertebrates evolved from invertebrates when ancient sea squirts a form of tunicate a marine invertebrate retained their larval characteristics and developed them further as they evolved into fish Sea squirt larvae are free swimming and resemble tadpoles Their brain includes a light sensitive eyespot and they have a rudimentary spinal cord In their adult stage however they are sessile filter feeders with neither nerve cord nor eyes Verhulst postulates that primitive tunicates such as the sea squirt retained their larval characteristics through retardation and evolved through hypermorphosis into fish the first vertebrates Following in a tradition as old as Darwinism he proposes that from the very beginning of animal evolution these dynamics have led progressively toward the emergence of the human form In this view the gradually emerging human prototype is seen as the driving force and central trunk of the evolutionary tree as the wellspring from which the animal world has sprung     The Quest ,2004     Genetic Engineering and the Intrinsic Value and Integrity of Animals and Plants David Heaf,Johannes Wirz,2002     Parabola ,1997     Emerson & Science Peter A. Obuchowski,2005 Emerson s lifelong interest in science is well documented in his journals lectures essays letters and poems He was especially interested in Goethean science which both heavily influenced his monasticism and in turn kept him at arms length from Swedenborg s mysticism and pseudo sciences of his day such as phrenology palmistry and astrology Emerson maintained a spiritually oriented worldview whilst still believing in the progress of science Obuchowski shows how the Goethean context helps to explain what he calls Emerson's scientific mysticism or spiritual science Bio-dynamics ,2004
