30 Day Devotional

DAY ONE

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel ..."

Read

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God that brings salvation to everyone who believes: first to the Jew, then to the Gentile."

Romans 1:16

Reflect

From Lost to Found Sharon Brannen,2017-05-30 My mother was a princess because her father was the King of Kings Somehow she always knew she was a princess But it wasnt until she began to experience the debilitating effects of ALS and was forced to be still that she was truly able to know her Father and know that He was God And in coming to know Him she came to know peace And when was I finally still enough to know It wasnt during my Catholic school upbringing as it could have been I learned of God there but I did not come to know Him there What I did come to know there was an overwhelming fear of Him In fact by the time I was introduced to AA Alcoholics Anonymous at age thirty four I thought I was going to hell I was certain that I had broken all of the Ten Commandments except for maybe thou shalt not kill And it was even possible that I had broken that one in a blackout I had felt lost for most of my life and therefore had lived a life of chaos and uncertainty My quest for peace began sometime in my midthirties when I decided to get sober but it wasnt until years later that I would truly find that peace Unbeknownst to me there was something blocking my progress something I thought had been resolved within myself many years earlier It was only through the death of my mother that I was finally able to move forward and find freedom from the self sabotage that had kept me stuck for so long This is the story of my journey from lost to found my quest for peace It is a journey that would take me deep into the darkest corner of my soul and back A journey that unknowingly would lead me to God My hope is that it provides you with an understanding of what it truly means to be still And that in being still you find peace Safe travels and may God bless you along your journey as I know he will continue to bless me along mine
