Stendhal's Less-Loved Heroines Maria C. Scott, 2017-12-02. Stendhal's most independent heroines are usually disliked or marginalized by critics. However, when gender neutral criteria are applied, Mina de Vanghel, Vanina Vanini, Mathilde de La Mole, and Lamiel can all be shown to enact extraordinary experiments in freedom. These experiments are all the more remarkable in view of the gender of their agents, the historical situation of the author (1783-1842), and the conventions of the literary movement that his fiction helped to found. Realism. Simone de Beauvoir's 1949 study of Stendhal's heroines gives preference to the reserved females over his Amazons. But existentialism as a philosophy of freedom also enables a reading of the self-determining heroines that acknowledges the superiority of their choices, their resistance and counter plots, their paradoxical authenticity, their rejection of seriousness and their assumption of responsibility for the routes they plot.

Manuel de bibliographie biographique et d'iconographie des femmes célèbres... par un vieux bibliophile Aglauro Ungherini, 1905

Stendhal's Parallel Lives Francesco Manzini, 2004. This book deals with the important and hitherto neglected relationship between the works of Stendhal and Plutarch's Parallel Lives Stendhal's readings of Plutarch are shown to inform his literary representations of Revolution and Empire Restoration and Orleanism as well as his theorizations of Romanticism. In particular the Plutarchan concept of Parallel Lives is used to analyse one of the major themes of Stendhal's writing: the self construction of individual identity whether auto biographical or fictional by means of the emulation as distinct from the imitation of heroic exemplars. As a consequence the balance between irony and idealism often identified by critics in Stendhal's work is shown rather to be an imbalance weighted in favour of an idealism derived from Plutarchan conceptions of heroism particularly as they are represented in the Lives of Julius Caesar and Marcus Brutus.
